REBELLION KILLS 300

FIRST SPOUSE SUES SECOND

CHICAGO, April 5.—The jury in the trial of a $100,000 damage suit brought by Helen Milner against Mrs. Harriet Capper Milner, alleging alienation of affections, was unable to agree today and was discharged by Judge Hugo Pam.

Mrs. Helen Milner, first wife of Edwin Milner, claimed the other woman had illegally won the affections of her husband.

Mrs. Harriet Capper Milner is a member of the family which owns Capper & Capper men's stores, with branches in many cities.

Mrs. Helen Milner testified she and her husband, a barber earning $16 a week in Waukegan, Ill., were happily married until he came under the influence of Miss Capper.

Mrs. Helen Milner obtained a divorce and when her former husband married Miss Capper, started suit for damages. She alleged Miss Capper and her husband indulged in "petting" and "cheekrubbing" long before the divorce decree was entered.

LOVE NEST PAIR ARE BOUND OVER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 5.—Robert Connor, millionaire lumberman of Marshfield, Wis., and Mrs. Bertha Brown were arraigned in district court here today on charges of maintaining a "love nest" in Milwaukee. Both waived preliminary hearing and were bound over to municipal court for trial, without entering a plea. The case is expected to be called within the next week.

Both Connor, who was former mayor of Marshfield, and Mrs. Brown, also known as Miss Bertha Gurtler, were in court when the case was called but made no statements.

Connor, since facing the charges here, has separated from his wife who has brought action for divorce. Mrs. Brown is the mother of three children.

BUSINESS TREND IS SOUND

Secretary Mellon Declares Inspection of Eastern Industrial District Cause of Optimism.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The upward trend of business today is fundamentally sound, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, back at his desk after a two weeks' trip thru the eastern industrial district, declared today.

An absolute consumption demand for the fruits of growing production, absence of labor troubles, speculation or credit excessesare the shining colors of the business rainbow, in Mellon's opinion.

The treasury chief pointed to the activity in the Pittsburgh steel district as an example of thriving industry.

BRIEF STATE NEWS.

Beatrice—Mrs. Jerry Mangus, who has been seriously ill the past few weeks from an attack of sleeping sickness, is reported slightly improved and it is now thought she will recover. She was taken ill at her home northeast of town and later brought to this city for treatment. Two deaths have occurred in the country from the disease.

Pawnee City—The Exchange hotel here is undergoing considerable remodeling, including the laying of tile floors. C. A. Scoville, the proprietor, intends to stucco the outside of the building as soon as the interior is renewed. He will then have one of the finest hotels in southeastern Nebraska.

Pawnee City—D. W. Osborne, head of the swine department of the Pawnee County Fair association believes that the hog show at the fair this fall will surpass any other previous show. Higher premiums will be offered this year, and this has already inspired many to obtain entries this early.

Pawnee City—John Curtis, secretary of the state railway commission at Lincoln, and an active American Legion booster, talked to the members of the Thomas Little post here at the hall Tuesday evening. A substantial lunch was served later in the evening.

Pawnee City—Those chosen to assess Pawnee county are: for Mission Creek, Ole Hansen; for Plum Creek, Henry Hart; for Turkey Creek, Will Rhinne; for West Branche, W. C. Loch; for Miles, George Lenard; for Steinauer, Fred Bausch; for Clay, Frank Brown; for Pawnee City, George Porter; for Clear Creek, Paul Conradt; for South Fork, S. L. Kaserman; for Sheridan, Phil Hunnzeker and for Table Rock, W. L. Sandusky.

Contest at Gothenburg.

GOTHENBURG, Neb., April 5.—The local declamatory contest was held here in the high school auditorium. There were fifteen contestants, and the winners in the various classes were as follows: Oratorical, Burton Thompson; dramatic, Lavawn Lewis; Humorous, Orlan Bryant. These contestants will represent Gothenburg high school in the contest of the westcentral declamatory league. The district contest is scheduled Friday, April 13 at Lexington. Paxton, Elmcreek, Lexington, Cozad, Ogallala and North Platte have also entered contestants for this event. The judges for the local contest were Superintendent A. L. Nye, Messrs Walter and Stryker all of Brady, Neb.

Nebraska City Muny Band.

Nebraska City, Neb., April 5.—Nebraska City's municipal band is organized for the season by the election of M. L. Crandall, leader; M. H. Hobbs, assistant director; A. H. Barstler, secretary; Dan Hill, treasurer; Arthur Lindahl, custodian and Mark Crandell, librarian. With Frank Fields M. L. Ross, and the director and secretary as trustees. The band has a contract with the city for free public concerts this season, and will give the first one early in May.

SHE HAS WORLD'S FINEST "RADIO VOICE," ACCORDING TO EXPERTS

NEW YORK.—Now it's the "radio voice." Not every singer, even those of acknowledged beauty of tone, can sing successfully over the radio. It has been demonstrated, therefore when a special jury of radio-musical experts got together recently and declared Miss Edith Bennett the "world's finest radio singer," it meant a great deal more than it sounds. Somewhat the same problem is faced by singers for phonograph records.

One singer is now suing in a Paris court claiming her reputation as a singer was ruined because her voice "didn't come out the way it went in."

EUGENICS IS CANCER HOPE

Doctor Says Control of That Malady Is a Racial Matter and Breeding Would Eliminate It.

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—Cancer never can be eradicated except thru the use of eugenics, i nthe opinion of Dr. Frank Smithies, secretary-general of the American Congress on Internal Medicine, addressing the annual convention of that organization.

"Repeated experiments," he said, "have shown that imperfect tissues responsigle for cancer are hereditary, and that too much attention has been given to the treatment of cancer in the individual and not enough in its treatment with the race.

"In three generations, if the breeding of the race could be controlled, cancer probably would disappear. But that is an impossible task, and it is probable that the human race will go on having cancer to the end of the chapter."

"Years of observation and experiment," said Dr. Smithies, "have given convincing evidence that the only certain way in which to check, if not to rid mankind entirely of cancer, is thru eugenic marriages."

Dr. Alfred Stengol, of the University of Pennsylvania, said that food and alcohol had very little to do with causing Bright's disease. "The effect of alcohol," he said, "has been greatly exaggerated by physicians and laymen alike. There is little ground for believing it greatly affects such diseases."

ELECTION AT GOTHENBURG

Vote to Purchase Theater for Civic Auditorium.

GOTHENBURG, Neb., April 5.—The city election here was quiet. C. F. Williams and H. C. Loutzenheiser were reelected to the board of education for a term of three years. H. Janssen and George Back had no opposition for the position on city council. A referendum was submitted to the people by the city council as to whether or not the Sun theater should be purchased and used as a civic auditorium. This carried by a three to one vote. The Sun has a seating capacity of 700 and is considered one of the finest show places between Omaha and Denver. Nate F. Desky is at present owner of the theater.

PLAN ALUMNI ROUND-UP

Details of Program for Entertainment Features of Commencement Week to Be Given Out Soon.

The University of Nebraska alumni committee of which O. J. Fee is chairman, in charge of arrangements for the annual alumni round-up to precede the June commencement exercises, met Thursday morning. Preliminary plans were made. Details of the program for alumni week are expected to be ready for publication within a few days. The president of the twentieth class becomes automatically chairman of the committee each year.

Pawnee City Election.

PAWNEE CITY, Neb., April 5—The city election resulted as follows: For vacancies on the city council, A. E. Benz and J. H. Shepherd; for vacancies on the school board, F. C. Calhoun and F. A. Barton. There was no opposition to the ticket and all candidates succeed themselves. There being no competition, little interest in the election was shown, only fifty-two votes being cast. This was one of the lightest polls ever cast in Pawnee City.

MAN WHO ESCAPED FROM JAIL FOUND

Harvey Lundberg Who Made Sensational Break From Fremont in 1921 Lodged Behind Omaha Bars.

FREMONT, Neb., April 5.—Harvey Lundberg, thirty-six, who escaped from the Dodge county jail in 1921, will be in the hands of Sheriff W. C. Condit, Friday afternoon according to an announcement made by the sheriff.

After searching for the man for over a year he was found by the Dodge county officer lodged in the jail at Omaha and upon the conclusion of his term Friday he will be met by Condit and returned to Dodge county to answer charges of burglarizing five different places at Prague, Neb.

Lundberg's escape from the Dodge county bastile was one of the cleverest and most daring in the annals of the jail's history. His escape was made by sliding down a ventilator shaft from the jail in the top floor of the court house to the first floor. From there he opened the door and walked out. Entering the ventilator shaft he was taking a chance on his life, not knowing where the narrow pipe would lead.

WOMAN LOSES B. P. SUIT

Sued Denver Man for $8,000—He Alleged He Never Called Her "Tootsie-Wootsie."

DENVER, April 5.—Sarah Drury, fifty-eight years old, lost her $5,000 breach of promise suit when a jury in Judge Henry J. Hersey's division of district court brought back a verdict of not guilty for the defendant in her case against Fred Gustavis, Denver shoe shop proprietor.

Mrs. Drury, mother of eight children and divorced, testified that Gustavis had virtually "carried her away and lured her by insidious wiles" when he was at Topeka, Kas., from 1916 to 1919.

"I trusted Fred and he promised to marry me. I did everything he wanted me to do," said Mrs. Drury.

"There's nothing to it," said Gustavis. "I just know the woman as a friend and had noone of the relations she refers to wih her."

"I washed his shirts and darned his socks," said the plaintiff, "and he called me 'my own tootsie-wootsie.'

"I paid her cold cash for her work and never called her tootsie-wootsie or any other pet names," answered Gustavis.

Mrs. Drury on the stand gave contradictory evidence and told the court it "was either 1916 or 1918 when Fred made his promises."

Gustavis testified that she came to Denver after him, not to marry him, but to ask him where she could get a job.

CHILD MOTHER PLAYS DOLL

Little Mary Cavand of Texas, Aged Ten, Treats Her Baby as If He Were Plaything.

SAN ANTONIO, April 5.—Little mother, Mary Cavand, ten years old, held her seven and a half pound baby in her arms for the first time today on the porch of Mission home, while she told of her "live doll."

Clasping the tiny white bundle tightly to her breast she crooned and hummed baby tunes as any child would to her doll.

The nurse took the baby from the child's arms and placed it in a crib close by, so Mary picked up a pair of scissors and began cutting brightly colored dolls from a fashion magazine.

"How did I happen to name him?" she inquired as the shears worked away. "Well, the nurse wanted me to call him Gordon and I liked the name of Joe, so I just named him Gordon Joe."

The paper dolls the little girl had been cutting out were carefully arranged by her on a table beside her chair.

"I'm going to play that we're having a wedding now. You all will have to be the guests and these two dolls are going to get married," she explained excitedly as the child imagination commenced to picture the scene.

TO PASS ON SALINGER CASE

Federal Judge at New Orleans to Determine Whether Attorney Can Be Freed on Habeas Corpus.

NEW ORLEANS, April 5.—Whether Ben I. Salinger, jr., former president of the defunct Midland Packing company of Sioux City Ia., will be returned there to face charges of using the mails to defraud in connection with the alleged misrepresentation of this packing industry's stock value, or be freed on habeas corpus proceedings is expected to be determined today or tomorrow when Fedral Judge Rufus Foster passes on the case.

Salinger, who was indicted in Sioux City in September last year, was surrendered here by a representative of his bondsmen who declared the bonding company wished to be released from the surety.

Salinger's surrender followed the action of the lower court of appeals in affirming the charges against him. He was released on $5,000 bail pending hearing on the habeas corpus proceeding.

"I am thru with politics for all time," he added.

MacNider said the bonus bill will pass the house and senate by bigger majority than before, "and I don't believe the president will veto the next time it passes," he said.

NEW SERIES OF BONDS

Federal Farm Loan Board to Replace the $55,000,000 Worth of 1917.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The federal farm loan board will soon issue a new series of bonds to take the place of the $55,000,000 5 per cent issue of 1917 called for redemption early this week, it was said at the treasury department today.

The new bonds will probably bear an interest rate of 4 1-2 per cent.

Holders of the called bonds will be given an opportunity to exchange them for the new issue it was indicated.

Dunbar Wants No Pool Halls.

DUNBAR, Neb., April 5.—At the town election in Dunbar held Tuesday, the people decided they did not want the town board to issue a license to operate a pool hall, altho the ordinance gives the board power to do so. The question was voted upon by separate ballot from the election ballot and was lost by a vote of 72 to 48. Neither party in the election sponsored the pool hall license, it being entirely separate from the election proper.

Fined for Shooting Ducks..

BLAIR, Neb., April 5.—Everett Aronson, William McDonald and James S. White, all of Blair, and Fred Dennison, Herman, Neb., were arrested near here by Deputy States Game Warden Otto Gewinner. The men were charged with "spring duck shooting."

Aronson and McDonald were tried before County Judge A. C. Debel and fined $25 and costs each. Dennison, charged with "chasing ducks" and having no hunting license, was fined $30. White's case is pending.

According to Gewinner, Aronson and McDonald each had a duck in his possession and White had three when arrested. Gewinner said a drive against spring duck shooting has been started in the state.

WOMAN STANDS FOR ACQUITTAL

FOSTER JURY IN DEADLOCK

Woman Said to Head Faction Favoring Acquittal.

ARE ABOUT EVENLY DIVIDED

In Case of Disagreement Second Trial Improbable.

Judge Gives No Indication of How Long He Will Allow Twelve to Continue Deliberations on Syndicalist Case.

ST JOSEPH, Mich., April 5—The jury in the trial of William Z. Foster, alleged communist, was apparently hopelessly deadlocked this afternoon.

The eleven men and one woman probably will be kept locked up for another day in an effort to force them to reach an agreement and decision, the judge indicated.

ST JOSEPH, Mich., April 5.—Mrs. Minerva Olsen, lone woman on the deadlocked jury deliberating the fate of William Z. Foster, was reported today leading the faction favoring acquittal.

According to reports in the court room, the jury was about evenly divided.

After spending the night at a local hotel the eleven men and one woman renewed their battle over the decision early today.

Judge Charles E White has given no indication of how long he will allow the jury to continue deliberations without reaching a verdict. However, it was considered probable that the court would not order a disagreement before Friday night, in case a decision cannot be reached.

In the corridors, the loud voice of Mrs. Olsen, arguing with several men, was frequently heard.

When the jury was brought into the court room after the night's rest, the woman's jaw was set and she had a determined look in her eye.

Foster, alleged communist charged with violation of the Michigan syndicalist laws, and Frank P. Walsh, his attorney, were greatly pleased over the prospect as hour after hour passed without a verdict being reported.

In case the jury disagrees, it is practically certain Foster will not be tried again. The state proposes to go ahead with the trial of Charles R. Ruthenberg, scheduled to start April 16. The prosecutors declared they have a stronger case against Ruthenberg and other members of the communist party than against Foster.

In closing arguments, Attorney Walsh made what was regarded as a special appeal to Mrs. Olsen, for a vote of acquittal.

He played upon Foster's opposition to war, vividly pictured his own son marching away, bringing tears to Mrs. Olsen's eyes, for she also had sons in the army.

The woman juror is of pleasing personality and with apparent qualities of leadership which have won over to her view probably four or five of the men.

The foreman, Calvin Bachman, a farmer, recently sat on another jury which convicted a man of first degree murder.

Mrs. Foster sat in the court room with her husband while the jury deliberated. She was smiling and cheerful and expressed her confidence that the ruling would be favorable to her husband

MARCH DEATH RATE LOWER

Thirteen and Two-tenths Out of Every Thousand Persons Died, Chapman's Report Shows.

There were less deaths in the past month than in the March month of the last five years, according to a report issued by Dr. Chauncy Chapman, of the city department of public health. His record shows: 63 deaths in March 1923; 77 in March 1922; 79 of that month in 1921; 78 in 1920; 76 in 1919; 70 in 1918; 76 in 1917; 71 in 1916 There were 13.2 deaths per 100 people.

The report continues: "There were 13 deaths under one year old, making a rate of 95.5 per 1000 births, the number and rate is just twice the average for the same month during the preceding five years. Nine of the 13 deaths under one year are designated as resulting from premature births. The March death rate is unusually low, and had it not been for the excessive number of premature births the rate would be much lower

"There were 151 cases of communicable diseases reported of which there were 64 cases of whooping cough, 45 cases of mumps, 22 cases of chicken pox, 2 cases of diptheria and 5 cases of scarlet fever The average during March for five preceding years is 238 This March is shown to be a fairly healthy month when compared with the same month for five years back."

SENATE SEES NEW LIGHT

REVERSES ACTION ON PAY FOR PROFESSORS' WIDOWS.

Many Senators Did Not Know Work of the Professors Was Carried Upon Shoulders of Others Without Pay.

The senate took the first step Thursday toward a reversal of its action in defeating H. R. 45, a bill appropriating a total of $2,583 to pay widows of two university professors. The money is called the balance of salary for the year or portion of a term following the death of the two men, Dr. W. F. Dann and C. E. Chowins, who had served nearly thirty years in the university.

Banning of Cass, floor leader of the democratic minority, moved that the bill be returned from the house for further action.

Anderson of Lancaster stated that the bill was defeated on passage under a misapprehension. He told the senate that the unexpired times of the two instructors had been filled out by other professors who volunteered their services. He said their personal work ceased but had been carried on by others without extra pay for any one, that on two former occasions the legislature had authorized similar payments, in the case of Dean Bessey and Dean Davis, and that no similar claim had been rejected to vote for the bill if given an opportunity. He believed it just.

Behrens who had opposed the bill previously had not changed his mind. He said if others had performed the service it looked to him as if there might be too many professors at the university.

Thielen said it was a question of whether pay should be given after a contract had expired If the two men had rendered good service that was no more than was expected of them under their contract.

Smrha said as to precedent this is something that will not happen every day or every year or every ten years, only two cases having occurred in the past.

Reed said nothing on the question of allowance but objected to the return of bills from the house He supposed a bill killed by the senate remained killed.

"I see by the headline in an Omaha newspaper," said Robbins, "that the senate appropriated $50,000 to keep fish from freezing in shallow lakes but nothing for widows. I am in favor of the return of the bill from the house."

Banning's motion for the return carried Banning stated that he did not know on the start that the work of the professors had been carried on the shoulders of other professors without extra pay

The bill will be placed on third reading later and its supporters say it will pass

REVISED SENTENCE: SHOT JUDGE

MOSCOW (By mail)—The Russian republic officials are very severe with official bribe takers. A judge who had been convicted of taking a bribe and sentenced to six years, appealed to the high court of appeals to have the sentence revised on the ground that it was too severe

The court revised it but sentenced him to be shot.

FRIENDS FOR THE NORMALS

FINANCE COMMITTEE BACKED BY MAJORITY VOTE.

Indications at Noon Recess Were That Garber Proposal Would Fall by Wayside Before Night Adjournment.

The house, without apology, reversed its step of Wednesday afternoon and in committee of the whole Thursday morning, stood stonewall fashion back of the finance committee's total appropriation of $1,270,000 for the four state normal schools Late Wednesday, by a vote of 58 to 20, this same house expressed sentiment in favor of abolishing the advanced two year course at the normals.

But when it came to the cold figures in dollars and cents, sentiment changed. Mr. Garber's motion to slash the appropriation 30 per cent or $381,000, was displaced by substitutes and amendments. His final proposal for a 15 per cent reduction was not voted upon prior to the noon recess Nor had the membership been recorded on Representative Gould's motion to accept the committee's figures.

Sentiment was, however, expressed on two roll calls. One was an amendment proposed by Osterman providing that no part of the appropriation should be used for advanced courses The vote was 34 for and 51 against Representative Bock, member of the finance committee, offered an amendment of Mr. Garber, reducing the cut from 15 to 10 per cent. The Bock proposal went down 36 to 49. The democrats voted eighteen for and eighteen against. Messrs Keifer and Bock were the only members of the finance committee to support it

Mr. Garber's own admission that he had no figures to substantiate his proposed reduction and that it was more or less arbitrary, reflected on the vote. The sentiment on the part of some members that if either hte elementary course or the advanced cours be abolished, it should be the elementary, also had some influence. An apology was offered for the stand taken Wednesday. The claim being made that the house was then disorganized.

The university received a cool cut of 17 1-2 per cent. It has been admitted that this was ofan arbitrary nature. The normals the same as for the past biennium, the same as recommended by Governor Bryan, with the exception of a committee cut of something like $300, altho these schools are not given what they asked for—not by more than $200,000.

"We cut the university $598,000 below the appropriation of the last two years," said Mr. Keifer. "The normals had $1,275,000 for that period, just what they are receiving in this bill"

Chairman Mears of the finance group charged Garber with attempting to build a reputation.

"He is a university man who cares nothing for the normals," he said.

A portion of the time was consumed in arguing the comparative cost of attending the university or some one of the normal schools. The city temptations and side attractions were featured One member went so far as to call the university a rich man's school.

"Eighteen hundred schools worked their way thru the university school year," said Gallagher "A student would have a fine chance getting a job in Wayne"

Four of the five members of the university investigating committee voted for reduction.

"This cut is but a drop in the bucket in connection with a greater move on foot," said Garber "This system was thrust upon us by eastern educators entirely out of harmony with Nebraska taxpayers The farmer is being eaten up—squeezed to death in this process of taxation"

Several who voted against tampering with the committee's figures, expressed the belief that some reorganization should be made but that a proper foundation should be laid for it. To slash the appropriation as proposed at this time they say, would eliminate the possibility of holding summer school at the several institutions

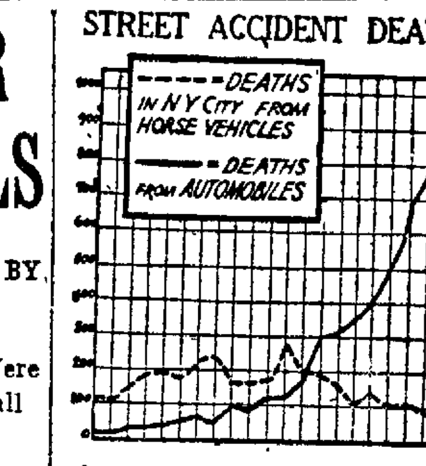

NEBRASKA JUSTICE SWIFT

WANTS UNIVERSITY REGENTS TO INVESTIGATE CONDRA.

Minority Member of Committee and Chairman of Same Continues Protest—This Time in Resolution Form.

Representative Auten, chairman of the university investigating committee which recently submitted a comprehensive report and was discharged, is dragging the matter a bit further on his own account and without the approval of his four colleagues He introduced a resolution Thursday demanding that the university regents to remove "all such" offenders and investigate the past record of Dr. Condra.

Mr. Auten admitted that "past offenders" applies to the head of the department of conservation and soil survey and that where he says "we" in the resolution, he means "I". On objection of Representative Bailey the resolution went over for one day under the rules. The resolution or communication:

"Believing that Nebraska can never be best served by the continuation of our activities under the heads of men who have degraded our highest institution by lowering the standards of state progress and education and who by their prominent positions are set forth as an example and guiding star to our coming generation

"We protest against the commercialization of our great university and demand that the regents take immediate steps to remove all such offenders and especially recommend that the past record of Dr. Condra be immediately investigated by them, and that he be removed from the opportunity to further debase our great institution, unless the findings of the investigation committee are disproved.

"Discretion of the highest order should be demanded of men who aspire to supreme prominence. This Dr. Condra has failed to supply, according to our findings, and we urge immediate action of the board of regents

KILLS MOVIE TAX MEASURE

House Revenue Committee Opposes Bill Which, It Assumes, Would Strike at Poor.

The house committee on revenue and taxation used the ax on H R. 585, by Representative Neff, a bill placing a five per cent tax on tickets to movies where the admission charge is a dime or more. It also pertains to other amusements and exempts those for the benefit of religious, charitable and musical societies. The committee ruled that the people are being taxed sufficiently and that the moving picture theater is about the only amusement place within the means of the poor

NO INTEREST IN CONTRACT

GOODHUE SAYS REPUTABLE ARCHITECTS DON'T DO IT.

Tells Investigators That He Did Not Attempt to Force Any Kind of Material Upon Capitol Commissioners.

Architect Goodhue, in his testimony before the legislative investigators Thursday morning, took occasion to say that he desired it understood that he had not attempted at any time to force on the commission any material, that in the creation of the building he desired certain effects and results that in his opinion could be produced by the use of certain articles but that he is not interested in any building material

He added that the rules of the American association of architects forbid this, and that no decent, reputable architect would do other than follow that rule He said that he had introduced to Gustavino, who is to furnish the first section tiling, the professor in physics at Harvard who worked out the formula with Gustavino, but that this was his only interest in the matter

Mr. Goodhue was asked just before the noon recess whether he thought the capitol could be built within the five million dollar appropriation He replied that he had started on that basis, but that the final cost is entirely dependent on the price level Not counting the furnishings and fittings, he estimated that the cost would be between $5,400,000 and $5,600,000 One of the best authorities in prices predicts a break a little over a year hence, and if this comes in time the state will profit by it Since he drew the original plans the building has been increased in size, with four feet added to its size and a basement. The basement will cost less and the tower, the third section, more than the 60 cents a cubic foot present contracts call for.

The greatest part of the morning was devoted to the presentation of the architect's answer to the Johnson indictment. He said that he would be fifty-four years of age on April 28th, detailed his rise from an office boy, recited a long list of notable buildings he had planned, including many for the government, many churches and many fine homes. The San Diego fair buildings were done by him

"Have you ever before been charged with being incompetent or negligent," asked his attorney.

"Never."

"Ever have any trouble with your clients?"

"Not this kind of trouble," he replied. "I am quick-tempered and they tell me inclined to be high-handed, and I have had disputes with clients who were also quick-tempered, especially the clergy, but we generally parted as friends."

"Is this the largest unit building you have had charge of?" asked Senator Kroh.

Built a Whole Town Once.

"Yes, sir," he said. "But hold on, I did build a town, a whole damned town in New Mexico, for Philip Dodge, a mining town, named Tyrone"

Mr Goodhue also told, in answer to questions, of medals he had received for his work, and gave other details of the thirty-nine years of his attention to architecture.

At the beginning of the morning session. Mr. Goodhue handed to the committeemen samples of the various tiling, ornamental as well as the background, together with photos showing what he believed to be the proper use of the respective products The Mazer product was a perfectly good material, but he doesn't like it because it does not look so well in his eyes The Rumford tile that he proposes for the vaulted spaces is a light brown material in brick shape that Mr Johnson scornfully refers to as looking no better than an adobe wall

Six rooms in the second and third sections will also have this Guastavino tile employed, he said These include the legislative chambers. He stated emphatically that this is

Preliminary Show Is Given for the Benefit of Pastors.

One movie audience Wednesday afternoon was made up almost entirely of ministers The picture was "The Town That Forgot God" and a preliminary showing was given for the benefit of Lincoln pastors It is the story of a Main Street town, twenty five years before Sinclair Lewis made the narrow minded small town famous where as the picture says the ten commandments are broken every day and the golden rule every hour" A simple good hearted carpenter is just about the only redeeming feature of the entire population A realistic storm and flood furnish excitement for the last part of the story which is told in eight reels

Little Bunny Grauer has a very important role in the picture also James [illegible] as the carpenter Jane Thomas Harr Barbara Low [illegible] nison and James Kenna The film was shown in Dr Condra's class room at the university where two projecting machines are installed When the Shriners gave a preliminary showing of "The Town That Forgot God" in Denver the entire group of ministers attending voted to base their next Sunday's sermons upon the picture. This fact was mentioned to the Lincoln ministers Wednesday afternoon, with the suggestion that they also might be able to find a sermon in the story.

CARNARVON DIES OF INSECT'S BITE

Discoverer of the tomb of King Tut Ankh Amen who died at Cairo. Superstitious Egyptians believe he was stricken because he disturbed the rest of the pharaoh.

WILL HOLD A KEAR INQUEST

COUNTY ATTORNEY HAS BEEN ASKED TO INVESTIGATE

All Evidence Is Said to Point to Accident as Cause of Death of Weighmaster for Schuler Coal Company.

An inquest over the death of John C. Kear, weighmaster for the Schuler Coal company who was killed by being run over by a coal car at Sixth and J streets Wednesday morning, will be held beginning at 5 p m Thursday evening at Troyer's chapel. Assistant Attorney L. R. Doyle will conduct the investigation. He said Thursday noon that the family of the deceased had requested that an official investigation be conducted to establish the cause of the death.

Deputy Sheriff Longstreth investigated the matter thoroly, he said, and gave his opinion that it might be that Mr. Kear had been trying to remove a lump of coal from the track when the engine started sooner than he expected He said nothing more than a guess could be hazarded, as he had not located anyone who saw the accident. It was also suggested that Mr. Kear's clothing caught in some way on the car and he was dragged under

Mr. Longstreth's investigation brought out that John Gettman, 1020 South Eighth street, who had been acting as a switchman, was the first to see Mr Kear after he had been run over by the rear end of the coal truck He said he felt the jar as the car's rear truck ran over the body. Just before the accident he had been talking to Mr Kear as to where a certain car should be placed, and had given the engineer a "highball" to start his engine. He thought Mr Kear had gone back to the office, swinging onto the coal car, he felt a bump, and looking back saw a body on the track.

He rushed to the office and called for Mr Kear, not having recognized the injured man, who was lying face down, unconscious Among the witnesses who will probably testify at the inquest are.

COURT HOLDS UP A DIVORCE

Isabell and William H. Points Must Pay Their Debts Before Judge Signs Decree.

A tentative decree of divorce awaits Isabell Points and William Harold Points to be signed by District Judge Morning just as soon as they pay up some debts they contracted during their married life

Mrs Points and her husband were married when she was sixteen and he a mere youth She testified that he had failed to provide for her He was subject to epileptic fits, she said and these, in addition to his alleged temper caused him to lose jobs

The court decided to hold up the decree after he learned that she had contracted debts during their married life but at the same time had found money to go to two dances and a picture show a week They were married April 2 [illegible] have no children [illegible] asked restoration [illegible] name of Strayer.

FRENCH WOULD MEET THE BRITISH VIEWS

Desire to Agree With Ally on Reparations and the Ruhr Question

MAKE IMPORTANT CONCESSIONS?

Loucheuer and Baldwin in Secret Conference.

REACH TENTATIVE AGREEMENT

French Believed to Have Consented to Cutting of Reparations, Which Will Be Devoted to Rehabilitation.

LONDON, April 5—France today sought agreement with Great Britain on the reparations question and an end of the Ruhr deadlock.

The French are understood to have made important concessions with a view to renewing the Franco-British entente

Louis Loucheuer, leading industrialist of France, conferred with Premier Bonar Law at Dawlish For two days he has been in secret conference with Stanley Baldwin, acting premier in Bonar Law's absence from London. Loucheuer also spent last week end with Premier Lloyd George.

An important change in France's policy in the Ruhr is believed to have taken place, it is said because of this conference

It is reliably reported that Loucheuer and Baldwin reached a quasi agreement regarding compromise of French and British views

The British press has no details of Loucheuer's conversations with Bonar Law, Lloyd George and Stanley Baldwin, but believes agreement between France and this country has been reached on the following basis:

1—Reduction of reparations to a considerably more modest figure than at present.

2—Reparations to be devoted largely to rehabilitation of devastated regions.

3—Germany to assume the allies' indebtedness to the United States and to receive an international loan.

4—Creation of a western Rhineland buffer state which will be part of the reich but free from Prussian control.

Loucheuer motored secretly to Chequers, country estate of British premiers, Tuesday night, and there conferred at length with Stanley Baldwin, after which official reports that agreements had been reached were put into circulation.

German Protest Violent.

PARIS, April 5.—The German government, thru its embassy here today delivered to France the most violent protest yet made against the occupation of the Ruhr

The note formally protests against the killing by French soldiers of thirteen workmen at the Krupp works in Essen, March 31, which is described by the note as "this frivolous massacre"

The German government, the note concludes, "demands full satisfaction for the victims and their relatives, as well as the immediate relatives of the persons arrested to cover the French guilt"

MINE WORKERS ACCUSED

Campaign of Violence to Preserve Monopoly of Labor Charged by Operators' Commission.

WASHINGTON, April 5—Charges that the united mine workers have engaged in a "campaign of violence" in order to preserve a monopoly of mining labor" were made to the United States coal commission by the bituminous operators' special commission said to represent 7 per cent of the soft coal tonnage of the country.

The charges were contained in a brief prepared by Henry L. Stimson, former secretary of war and Goldthwaite Dorr, in response to a request from the commission for specific acts of violence chargeable to the mine workers' union

The brief attempts to charge twelve instances of violence in the coal mining fields to the united mine workers since January 1, 1919

TRY TO AVOID TRAFFIC HALT

RAILROADS HAVE SPENT OVER BILLION AND HALF.

New Program Adopted to Facilitate Traffic Movement Until the Peak Is Passed This Fall.

NEW YORK, April 5.—More than one billion, five hundred million dollars are being spent by railroads of the United States for equipment to prevent possible paralysis of transportation by fall.

In announcing the appropriation of $1,540,000,000 for new engines and passenger cars, trackage and other equipment, railroad executives attending the conference of the American Railway association here today also announced adoption of a program to facilitate traffic movement until the peak is passed this fall.

Testifying to the manner in which the railroads rose to the emergency following the long strike of railroad shopmen and coal miners, the executives submitted figures showing a record breaking traffic movement between July 1 1922 and March 17, 1923.

More traffic was moved during these thirty-seven weeks than during any corresponding period in the history of the country, the executives stated.

New freight cars ordered between January, 1922 and March 15, 1923, totalled 223,616, of which 117,280 now are in service The balance of new equipment will be delivered by fall when it will be thrown into the breach to meet the seasonal demand of agriculture and other industries

DOYLE THINKS EARL KILLED BY SPIRITS

Famous Spiritualist Declares Powerful "Elementals" Guarding Tomb of King Tut, Perhaps Killed Carnarvon.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Powerful "elementals" or spirits placed on guard by Egyptians to protect the tomb of Tut-Ankh-Amen may have caused the death of Lord Carnarvon, discoverer of the pharoah's resting resting place, Sir Arthur Conan Doyle declared in an interview here today.

These "elementals," Sir Arthur, world's most noted exponent of spiritualism, explained, are not spirits in the ordinary sense, in that they have no souls.

Conan Doyle believes the ancient Egyptians knew more of occul matters than do moderns That priests of the days of Tut-Ankh-Amen were endowed with power to create these guardian "elementals" seems well founded, he said.

A question, Sir Arthur said, is the length of time the "elementals" lasted. Whether Egyptian priests had a sufficient occult knowledge to endow these spirits with eternal life is not known. The spiritualist is inclined to believe "the elementals" broke up after maintaining their guard for certain periods

Guarded Tomb.

"The pharaohs were very anxious to guard the tombs of their kings," Conan Doyle said. "There is reason to believe that they placed elements there and such may have caused his death."

Sir Arthur then cited other cases similar to that of Lord Carnarvon where death followed contact with mummies. The son of Sir William Ingram, London publisher, met the fate prescribed by a mummy he discovered and brought to London. On the mummy was found the following inscription:

"May the life of the one who disturbs me die rapidly and may his bones never be buried."

Shortly afterward the son was killed in a hunting expedition in Somaliland. The body was placed in the dry bed of a stream, pending removal. When the party returned the dry bed had been turned into a raging torrent and the body had disappeared.

Another Instance.

Conan Doyle cited another case where persons who brought a mummy to the London museum, those who carried it to its case and others who came in contact with it, died, or were driven insane or were visited by other misfortunes. Other similar incidents have occurred elsewhere, he said, and in the aggregate they are conclusive evidence that the Egyptian priest had discovered the secret of giving life and form to guardian spirits, he argued.

There is little likelihood of the spirits of Tut-Ankh-Amen and Lord Carnarvon meeting in another world, because of the vast length of time between their deaths, Sir Arthur said.

Surrounded by Family.

CAIRO, April 5.—Surrounded by his family, the earl of Carnarvon died peacefully early today of blood poisoning sustained in excavations at the tomb of Pharaoh Tut-Ankh-Amen, which he discovered.

Lord Carnarvon, who made a brave fight against the poison, and against pneumonia, which developed recently, sank rapidly shortly after midnight. The countess of Carnarvon, their daughter, and Lord Porchester, the earl's son and heir, were summoned hastily. After bidding them farewell, Carnarvon drifted into unconsciousness and died at 2 a. m.

Superstitious Egyptians whispered that the gods that guard King Tut's catafalque cast an evil spell on the man who dared disturb the pharaoh's rest.

Friends of the explorer say Carnarvan was bitten by a noxious insect in the outer tomb of the ancient monarch. Blood poisoning developed and spread rapidly thru his system.

The earl's sudden illness; the sudden illness of his wife, the countess, as she was flying to his bedside in an airplane, a maid of the household stricken by appendicitis a day before the tomb was opened; Carnarvon's pet canary swallowed by a cobra; these were a few of the things attributed to vengeance of the gods of Tut-Ankh-Amen by the natives.

A plague of boils broke out in many parts of Europe the day the tomb was entered.

Lord Carnarvon was fifty-six years old. By his death, his daughter-in-law, formerly Miss Katherine Wendell of New York, who married Lord Porchester in London last July, becomes the countess of Carnarvon and joins the few American women of high rank in the British peerage.

DR. WILLIAM J. SULLIVAN

Of New York who will preach at a special service in All Souls' Unitarian church next Sunday evening at 7:45 on the subject "The Meaning of Faith." Dr Sullivan was ordained to the priesthood of the Roman Catholic church in 1899. For ten years he had a distinguished career as a mission preacher and professor of theology in the Paulist order. Belonging to the modernist movement, he eventually decided, in 1910, to leave the Catholic church. In 1912 he became the minister of All Souls' Unitarian church in New York city. A year ago he resigned his pastorate in order to conduct, under the auspices of the Unitarian Laymen's league, preaching missions of liberal religion in the larger cities of the United States and Canada. Usually he conducts a two weeks' series of meetings in a city. But at this time it is possible for him to be in Lincoln only for next Sunday evening. He is regarded as one of the most gifted and impressive preachers in America. With Dr Sullivan will be Wellington Smith of Boston, a baritone soloist of note. He will sing two solos during the service

INCREASE OF RAIL TRAFFIC

Storm Period Showed a Bulge in Number of Passengers Carried by the Roads.

Railroad men got a better idea of the extent of auto traffic during the snow drift period in Nebraska recently than they have ever had before. It has been known for a long time that spells of weather that interfered with highway traffic materially increased railroad travel, but the extent of it was never made plainer than during this recent period when for more than a week many roads were impassable for cars.

During such weather travel would naturally be lighter than during periods of pleasant weather. Nevertheless the closing of the highways by snowdrift and mud brought to the roads a great amount of travel. Some of the branch line trains that do a very light business the year around were suddenly found to be carrying well filled coaches. Main line trains also showed the change in traveling conditions with the result that the railroads profited from the storm, regardless of the fact that they had to run snow plows to clear their lines.

WOUNDED BANDIT ESCAPES HOSPITAL

Gerald Chapman, "Million Dollar Robber" Who Was Shot and Captured After Break From Atlanta, Again Missing.

ATHENS, Ga., April 5.—Gerald Chapman, "million dollar bandit," of New York who was shot and captured near here after a sensational escape from the federal penitentiary at Atlanta last week was again at large today.

Practically bedridden from wounds received when he was captured, Chapman last night escaped from the second floor of St. Mary's hospital when his guard was out of the room for a minute.

A rope made from his bed clothes gave mute testimony to the manner of Chapman's latest daring break for liberty. A suit of clothes belonging to his guard was taken by the prisoner.

A few minutes before his escape Chapman was visited by the hospital doctor who pronounced his condition serious. His temperature was over 100 hospital attendants stated.

A state-wide alarm was sounded immediately following the escape.

COLORED TRIO DRAWS FINES

Negroes Plead Guilty to Liquor Charge and Are Fined.

Three colored men were each fined $100 and costs Thursday morning by Justice of Peace W. T. Stevens when they pleaded guilty to charges of illegal possession of liquor. They are: Frank Stepney, thirty-six years old, 1260 Vine; Jim Gill, twenty-nine years old, 826 University avenue; Clarence Greene, thirty-three years old 1260 Vine. The trio was arrested at 2:15 a. m. Thursday in an auto near the Rock Island station by Detective Rymer and Officers Waite and Weichel. A suitcase containing eight pints of liquor was seized and taken to police headquarters. Stepney left a train from Omaha and was carrying a suitcase. Officers followed him to the auto where he joined the two others, according to Detective Rymer. None of the men had paid their fines. A mittimus was issued.

COMMUNITY CHEST DEMAND.

The recently organized Community Chest for Lincoln is not an experiment but is the result of the successful operation of similar organizations in other cities for many years. It is also the direct result of a wide spread demand in this city, especially by the business and professional men, for the consolidation of many drives for funds which take place each year. This consolidation will obviously result in a very great saving of the time both of those who solicit the funds and of those who are solicited. Experience in other cities of this consolidated effort also seems to demonstrate that a larger number of contributors are reached than under the old system of separate drives. All hands should join in giving this splendid movement the most hearty co-operation.

RALPH WILSON,
President of Lions Club.

SAID TO HAVE JUMPED BOND.

Sam Strope colored, thirty-three years old, will be taken to Denver by an officer who will arrive from there early Friday, according to a telegram received late Thursday forenoon by Chief of Police Johnstone. Strope faces a charge of grand larceny there and it is alleged that he jumped his bond. He was arrested by Lincoln police on a burglary charge recently. It is alleged that he stole a suitcase of clothing from the city Red Cross rooms. If case he is freed in Denver the burglary charge here will be pending against him, according to Chief Johnstone.

OPEN SHOP IS NOT AN ISSUE

HARDING'S PARTY RESPONDS TO GOMPERS' STATEMENT.

Warning to President That Organized Labor Is Ready to Meet Challenge Is Declared Unwarranted.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 5.—The republican party will not champion the open shop nor anti-strike agitation in its 1924 presidential campaign, members of President Harding's vacation party here declared today. This was in response to a statement from Samuel Gompers, president of the American federation of labor, warning that American labor was ready to meet the issue.

Opponents of organized labor, Gompers said, have urged the president to make the open shop and anti-strike legislation issues of the republican campaign.

President Harding today refused to comment on Gomper's statement. The president's political retainers believe Gomper's statement and warning unwarranted. They hold that neither the president nor party chieftains have entertained thoughts of antagonizing labor secretly or openly.

They are inclined to regard Gomper's statement as meant for labor consumption, and not indicating he really believes the party is going back to such issues.

TAUGHT BUSINESS BY WAR.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 3.—Baking science has developed more in the past ten years than in all the previous years of man, Dr. H. E. Barnard of Chicago, declared at today's general meeting of the American Chemical society. He declared:

"The world war amalgamated 33,000 individual bakers into a great industry, which for the first time in history was compelled to work under controlled shop methods. Out of the chaos which confounded every baker, emerged an industry with a vision of the value of science.

LATE NEWS OF YESTERDAY

MRS. E. C. YONT IS ELECTED

BROCK WOMAN HEADS WOMEN'S CLUB FEDERATION.

Is Made President of the First District—Annual Convention Closes at Tecumseh.

TECUMSEH, Neb., April 4.—Election of officers for the First district Nebraska Federation of Women's clubs at the twentieth annual convention here Tuesday resulted in the selection of Mrs. E. C. Yont of Brock for president, Mrs. W. E. Ingersoll, Tecumseh, vice president; Mrs. Theodore Foss, Sterling, treasurer. On the committee of women, Mrs. George Gandy and Mrs. R. C. Zine were defeated.

Wednesday's program began with a rousing old fashioned sing, conducted by Mrs. E. S. Luce, former state chairman of music. The report of the public welfare chairman was read by the secretary protem, Mrs. J. A. Daugherty of Pawnee City. The main topic of discussion was junior organization. Mrs. Arthur Gentzler, state chairman from Gothenburg, spoke on the subject, "How Can We Help."

An impressive ceremony was the lighting of the "home candle" by Mrs. Penney, state president. Mrs. Penney also discussed on the junior organization program the subject of "Plans for the Future." She said that girls' ideals are high. It is often the lack of direction of these ideals in the proper channels that causes trouble. She urged that all make the girls feel how much they are needed for high standards in home making, health and social and civic righteousness.

Mrs. E. C. Welch, state chairman from York, talked on "Civil Service and State Institutions." Mrs. Welch gave a historical review of civil service progressing thru all presidential administrations. She told of the state institutions and their needs and asked club members to co-operate with all committees to the betterment of these institutions. After the reports by the retiring president, Mrs. Cresap of Nebraska City, the auditor protem; Mrs. Kelly, and the committee on resolutions by Mrs. Morrill of Sterling, the new officers were introduced.

At Tuesday evening's session Mrs. J. T. Lees of Lincoln, state vice president, in her greeting paid a tribute to homes, citing the home as the foundation of civilization. Mrs. P. C. Perryman of Ord, state treasurer, and chairman of transportation, told the members points about the trip to the state convention at Beatrice and the convention at Atlanta. Fifteen members of the music section of the Tecumseh Woman's club, sang a concerted number, "Merry June," by Charles Vincent. Mrs. J. F. Gist, state historian, paid a tribute to woman and woman's work thru the club federation. The main address of the convention was given by Mrs. Edgar B. Penney on "Expectations and Results." She urged more concrete, specific plans for work and more individual responsibility, more co-operation and more interest in American affairs.

When the Gilbert and Sullivan operas were young it was the pleasant custom of local singers in some of the towns of Nebraska to learn them and sing them not only at home but in other places. One is agreeably reminded of those days when the Hastings college glee club produces Henry Hadley's operetta "The Fire Prince," and arranges to present it in a dozen cities in the state, with new scenery brilliant costumes, a competent orchestra, and a chorus of fresh, young voices The character of the work also recalls the golden Sullivan days, for it has much of the vivacity and brightness of this composer.

The company made its debut in Fairbury on Monday, played in Beatrice on Tuesday and reached Lincoln on Wednesday, playing in the Orpheum theater. Before the tour is ended it promises to be something quite out of the ordinary run of amateur performances. The people are already letter perfect, the stage management is impeccable, and principals, chorus and orchestra follow the leader's baton with loving certitude.

The Augustana College Band.

A spirited performance was given Wednesday evening at the high school auditorium before an audience of several hundred people by the Augustana college band of Rock Island, Ill. The Lincoln concert was scheduled as one of the events for the annual spring tour. Augustana college has maintained a student band for almost fifty years. The present organization directed by Elmer Hanke is a decided credit to the institution. The numbers went with snap and vim and with excellent interpretations. Several of the numbers had been arranged for band by the director. Mr. Hanke's name appeared also on the program as soloist in a group for piano, but announcement was made that "The Swedish Guard" and other Swedish selections would instead be played by the band.

E. Clifford Toren, the baritone soloist, is a former Lincoln boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Toren of 1635 E street. He is on the faculty of the Augustana conservatory and is also baritone soloist in the Broadway Presbyterian church of Rock Island. His voice is of fine quality and he sang with feeling and dramatic effect. For his first group, he sang, "The Time For Making Song Has Come," by Rogers, Russell's "Long, Last Night," and a Negro Spiritual. Homer's "Banjo Song" was given as an encore. The "Toreador Song" from Carmen, sung by Mr. Toren in the second part was repeated in response to recall. Eugene Nordgren played the piano accompaniments for the first group. The second group was to band accompaniment.

The piccolo solo by Karl Kubitz in the band number, "The Nightingale and the Frog," the flute furnishing the imitation of the bird, particularly pleased the audience and the number was repeated.

FREE PASSES SOON LAWFUL

HOUSE LAYS FOUNDATION FOR BIG REDUCTION.

On Record as Favoring Abolishment of Advanced Two-Year Course at Four Schools.

Governor Bryan signed S. F. 69, the free pass bill, Wednesday afternoon. This bill started with an emergency clause but as recorded in the office of the secretary of state has no such such clause. It will therefore become effective three months after the legislature adjourns, which, according to Senator Saunders' prediction from the first, made public toward the last, will be the third week or last week in April.

As amended by the senate the bill amends the present law so that it shall not be construed by courts as prohibiting the railroads from giving free passes not the persons hereinafter designated, nor make acceptance or use of free passes unlawful by persons with such classes, namely, "ministers of religion, traveling secretaries of railroad Young Men's Christian associations, inmates of hospitals and charitable and eleemosynary institutions and persons exclusively engaged in charitable and eleemosynary work."

Under this wording it is alleged inmates of a hospital of any kind can legall: accept a free pass and railroads can lawfully give such persons free passes.

The pass bill was introduced by Senator Allen of Lincoln county and Representative Kemper of Hamilton county, according to amendments attached to it.

The governor also signed H. R. 515, by Johnson, requiring electric transmission and power companies to grant service from lines running between municipalities to persons living adjacent to transmission lines. It will become effective three months from the fulfillment of Senator Saunders prediction relative to adjournment of the legislature, or thereabouts.

The following bills were ordered engrossed for third reading:

S. F. 125, by Smrha, repealing the law which prohibits cities of from 5,000 to 25,000 to pay more than 25 cents a square for publication of legal notices.

H. R. 247, amended so as to provide for the primary election in even years on the same date as formerly, the third Tuesday in July, and on presidential years the second Tuesday in April, and for preference vote for president and vice president.

H. R. No. 351, requiring notice to buyer where auto tires of second grade are offered for sale.

H. R. No. 619 for bunching a series of embezzlements into one crime to arrive at amount [illegible].

H. R. No. [illegible] price of supreme court reports reduced from $2 to $1.

H. R. No. [illegible] to prohibit [illegible] of telephone exchange when 60 per cent of subscribers object.

S. F. No. [illegible] penalty for defrauding [illegible] out of [illegible] on animals.

[illegible] the lieutenant governor [illegible] while [illegible] as governor an amount equal to the salary [illegible] the governor.

H. R. No. [illegible] [illegible] deduction of [illegible] when [illegible] judgment for [illegible]

H. R. No. [illegible] [illegible] county judges [illegible] judges who are disqualified [illegible] in which relatives of the judge are interested.

H. R. No. [illegible] [illegible] county internal improvement propositions for [illegible] year.

H. R. No. 425 prohibiting the keeping of [illegible] at [illegible] after they [illegible] the age of twenty-one.

H. R. No. 123, prohibits resubmission of internal improvement propositions in cities in less than one year.

The senate adjourned to meet at 10 o'clock Thursday.

The committee on miscellaneous subjects will hold a hearing at 3 o'clock Thursday on the Dysart code bills.

The committee on revenue will hold another public hearing Thursday night on H. R. No. 111, for repeal of the tax on intangible property.

PEOPLE YOU KNOW

Nearly two hundred and fifty people attended the tenth annual banquet of the Nebraska legislative ladies' league held Wednesday evening at the Lincoln hotel. Places were arranged for the guests at small tables and the speakers of the evening and the officers of the league were seated at one long table which had a large vase of pink roses for a centerpiece. Myriads of colored balloons decorated the tables and were hung from the lights about the room. The floor lamps were shaded with pink fringed shades and pink roses were at each plate. Mrs. Homer K. Burket acted as toastmistress and the following toasts were responded to: "Our Guests, a Welcome," Mrs. Charles W. Bryan; "Response," Mrs. Fred G. Johnson; "Women in Politics," Mrs. E. Arthur Carr. Mrs. Bryan, honorary president of the league, spoke a few words of welcome to guests on behalf of the league and said that she felt this was the only opportunity she would have to address the legislature. Mrs. Johnson, wife of the president of the senate, responded by saying that the men were left off the program because there were too many of them that were anxious to take part. Mrs. Carr said that women were in the political fight to stay and that if they had been in the legislature this season something would have been been accomplished. A song, "Nebraska," was sung by Mrs. W. H. Smith, and the chorus was sung by the guests. Mrs. J. S. Kroh responded to a toast, "The Joy of the Life of a Legislator's Wife," and told of making a tour in the western part of the state with her husband during the political campaign. The following musical program was given by Miss Lucile Cline, accompanied on the piano by Gertrude Culbertson Bell; "Allerseelen," Strauss; "L'heure Exquise," Hahn, and "Messaggero," Buzzi-Peccia. "In Explanation" by Kramer was given as an encore. Mrs. A. E. Sheldon spoke on "Important Bills for Nebraska." She showed colored slides illustrating the habits of the thrasher bird and told of the necessity of increasing the number of birds in Nebraska that they might destroy the insects that are killing the grains. "The Birds' Congress," a short musical sketch, was given by Mrs. R. E. Harrington's league players, including Mesdames Brokaw, Colman, Kier, Kroh, McGinley, Skiles, Whitehead and Wilson. The players were dressed to represent the various kinds of birds—robin, blackbird, bluejay, bluebird, red cardinal, woodpecker, sparrow and crow. Officers of the league include Mrs. Charles W. Bryan, honorary president; Mrs. Homer K. Burket, president; Mrs. W. B. Banning, vice president: Miss Helen H. Tuttle, secretary, and Mrs. George B. Hastings, treasurer. Mrs. H. C. Lindsay was chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements, and she was assisted by Mesdames A. N. Mathers, Scott Reynolds, H. B. Shallenbarger and J. C. F. McKesson. Mrs. W. H. Smith acted as cheer leader and led the double quartet of ladies who sang a short parody before each talk.

Prof. F. M. Gregg will address the Nebraska Wesleyan chapter of Phi Kappa Phi at 4:30 p. m. Thursday on the subject of "The Nature and Implication of the Attitudinal Theory of Consciousness."

Sixty-five attended the banquet of the Terpsichorean dancing club Wednesday evening at the chamber of commerce. Places were arranged for the guests at small tables decorated with showers of spring flowers. An orchestra furnished music during the dinner and songs and aesthetic dances were featured in the entertainment. Dancing followed at Rosewilde. The ballroom was decorated with a profusion of spring flowers. Down the center of the room extended a long canopy made of streamers in the spring colors. At the end of the room was a tulip garden and from the tulips extended balloons which were given the ladies as favors. The ladies also received candy rolls as favors and the men were given tulip whistles and cigars. Punch was served during the dancing. Guests of the club were Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McKelvie, Major and Mrs. Sidney Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. Sam North, Dr. and Mrs. M. E. Vance, Captain Butler L. Knight, Miss Terney, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Thomas and Prof. and Mrs. Paul Grummann. Mrs. Eli Shire was chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements and was assisted by Mrs. George Leonard and Mrs. D. J. Cravens.

United States Senator G. W. Norris and Mrs. Norris of Nebraska who are traveling in California and Congressman John W. Summers and Mrs. Summers of Washington were the guests March 30 of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harrison of Granada park, Pasadena, Cal. They were honored guests for the day of the city, beginning with a luncheon at the San Gabriel country club, an automobile tour of the city and surrounding country in the afternoon and concluding with a public reception in the evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison. Senator Norris was the first speaker at the luncheon and told several stories illustrating the boosting spirit of the Californians. "It's a wonderful country," he said, "and why shouldn't it be when you have so many people here from Nebraska, Kansas and Iowa?" At the speakers' table at the luncheon were seated Senator Norris, Congressman Summers, City Manager Grant M. Lorraine, Judge William M. Northrup, Judge G. C. Marshall, Frank A. Harrison and B. N. Marriott. At the ladies' table were seated Mrs. G. W. Norris, Mrs. J. W. Summers, Mrs. F. A. Harrison, Mrs. Jacob Levin, Mrs. W. W. Bennett, Mrs. Vernon Jenkins, Mrs. Clayton I. Ward, Mrs. F. A. Utter and Mrs. Plym C. Davis. Others present at the luncheon were William F. Goble, W. W. Comstock, C. R. Livengood, Vernon Jenkins, A. I. Whitehead, C. I. Ward, S. A. Forman, F. V. Routt, F. A. Turner Karl Keeler, F. A. Utter, Plym C. Davis, P. G. Joyce, C. H. Reed, W. W. Bennett, Jacob Levin, G. O. Johnson, William Dauner, M. E. Carroll, G. W. Meeker, H. H. Rohmer, Harry Mound, C. E. Barber, George Samter, Dr. H. F. Bishop, Scott Quinton and R. R. Johnson.

Hikers and horseback riders have been frequent visitors to Willow park, the ranch home of Mrs. Effie Leese Scott and her son, W. A. Scott, formerly of Lincoln, near Cebolla, Colo., during the past two weeks to see the large herd of deer wintering there. About fifty of the animals may be seen daily grazing on the top of the cliffs within half a mile of the Scott cabin.

Miss Naneen Davis of Waterloo, Iowa, arrived Wednesday and will be in Lincoln over the week end as the guest of her brother W. Leroy Davis and Mr. Davis. Miss Davis is supervisor of music in the West Waterloo schools and came to Lincoln to visit the schools here and study the music methods used.

One hundred and twenty-five Catholic daughters of America attended an informal banquet in the club rooms in K. C. hall Wednesday night. Decorations were in the organization's colors, purple and gold. Jonquils, tulips and snapdragons centered the long tables. Miss Catherine Grace and Miss Stella Carper, brides of the month, were placed in the seats of honor and presented with gifts of silver by Mrs. Joseph Girard, grand regent. A committee, Mrs. Kirby chairman, had prepared the following program:

Song—Mrs. E. P. McLaughlin, Miss Lucile Helms, Miss Bee Johnson, Mrs. F. R. Grace, Miss Genevieve Lodge, Miss Kathleen McCaslin. Miss Sutton accompanist.
Reading—Miss Margaret Munger.
Trio, violin, piano, voice—Mr. Concella, Miss Agnes Weekbach, Mrs. Giarrafa.
Solo, group of three songs—Mrs. Frank Mullen.
Vocal duet—Alice May and George Wickoff.
Piano solo—Gordon Hager.
Reading—Miss Emma Wittmann.
Song—Members.

The marriage of Miss Lelia Rieth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Rieth, to John Arthur Boberg of Saronville, occurred Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the First Congregational church. The ceremony was performed by Dr. John Andrew Holmes in the presence of immediate relatives and friends. Mr. and Mrs. Boberg will be at home temporarily in Lincoln.

J. T. Mossman of Denver, formerly of Lincoln, is spending a few days in the city. The family moved to Denver about three years ago. He expects to return to Colorado Thursday evening.

Miss Carolyn Reed is visiting at the home of her parents, Prof. and Mrs. A. A. Reed during the spring vacation. Miss Reed is head of the music department of the public schools in Fremont.

Titta Ruffo and his party, consisting of Miss Yvonno d'Arles, soprano; Mr. Merson, accompanist, and Howard Shelly of New York, will arrive from Denver Thursday morning. They will remain in the city until Friday. A number of musical people will meet the members of the party at an after-concert supper Thursday evening at the Lincoln hotel.

OVERSEAS MEN TO PUT UP A BATTLE

Know What Committee Thinks of Bonus, But have Decided to Try to Learn What the People Think.

Word reached members of Sergeant Richard L. Harris Post of Veterans of Foreign wars Wednesday night that Omaha service men have decided, once the bonus bill is dead beyond hope of revival, to make use of the initiative and referendum law in taking the bonus matter to the people. This word came during a "jitney dinner" staged by Frances Lorraine auxiliary. During the dinner and the dance that followed the senate committee and its action in putting the bill on the shelf were thoroly discussed.

It was further learned that active work has already been started in Omaha, but quietly, until it is learned that the senate's decision is final, and that the bill will not be raised.

Lincoln veterans got off in corners of the club rooms and began laying plans parallel to those of the Omaha exservice men, and word came from Kearney, Fremont and Wahoo that plans were already being made there. The scheme is to get out petitions and see if the citizens of Nebraska were properly represented by the senate committee that voted to murder the bonus. The ex-service men said that in view of the fact that in every state where the bonus was submitted to the people it passed by a mighty majority, they had little doubt but that Nebraskans would sign their petitions.

PHI KAPPA PSI IS COMING

District Council of Fraternity to Hold Annual council Here.

The annual council of the Fifth district of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity is being held April 5, 6, and 7, Nebraska Alpha chapter is host to about fifty delegates from chapters in Iowa, Texas, Kansas, Missouri, Colorado, and Oklahoma. The headquarters of the convention will be at the Lincoln hotel but many of the activities will center about the local chapter house.

JOHN KLOEPFEL IS DEAD

Pioneer Nebraskan and Former Member of Legislature Dies at Falls City.

FALLS CITY, Neb., April 4.—John Kloepfel, eighty-eight years old, pioneer resident of this county, died at his home here early Wednesday morning. Mr. Kloepfel came to Nebraska fifty-eight years ago. He was a member of the Nebraska legislature from 1878 to 1882. He is survived by his wife and six children.

FALLS CITY BOY IS SHOT THRU THE HIP

FALLS CITY, Neb., April 4.—Charles Langdon, aged fourteen, son of John Langdon, was accidentally shot thru the hip Tuesday night about 11 o'clock by a bullet from a revolver in the hands of a companion of about the same age. The boys were near the Burlington depot at the time of the accident. The lad was taken to the hospital where he submitted to an operation for the removal of the bullet. The wound is not dangerous.

ATTEMPT TO GET CHILDREN

Cedar County Couple Makes Application in Court to Get Little Ones From State Home.

Flow Martin and Leona P. Martin, husband and wife, of Laurel, Cedar county, whose children were placed in the state home for dependent children in Lancaster county by an order of County Judge Wilbur F. Bryant, of Cedar county, have filed an application for a writ of habeas corpus in district court, asking that they be given the custody of their children until the matter can be adjudicated in the Cedar county district court upon an appeal.

Mr. Martin alleged in his petition that on March 20, 1923, a "pretended" hearing was had on the complaint of third parties under the juvenile law, and that he was absent at the time. Mrs. Martin did not know the proper proceedure to take to defend herself against loss of the children, and that they were taken away the following day.

District Judge Frederick Shepherd signed an order for a hearing on the application for a writ of habeas corpus to be held April 11.

MERE MENTION.

Herbert Wright, 1701 K street, reported to the police Wednesday that a suit of clothes was stolen from his room early Wednesday morning.

Petition was filed in county court Wednesday afternoon for appointment of an administrator for the estate of Maggie McGuire, who died March 29 The estate is estimated as worth $4,000 in personal property. Heirs are Edward T. McGuire, of Mead, and William T. McGuire of Burke, S. D.

Sesostris Temple of the Mystic Shrine has arranged for some rare doings on Friday, when the regular ceremonial will be held. A special section for the ladies will be given again at the auditorium at 10 o'clock They will meet at the Scottish Rite temple at 9:30, and from there will be escorted to the auditorium.

J. G. Eastlack was araigned before Justice of Peace W. A. Hawes Wednesday afternoon on the same offense for which he was fined $50 and costs is charged with reckless driving and driving an auto while intoxicated. He stood mute and the court entered a plea of not guilty for him. The case was continued until April 11. Mr. Eastlack was released on $200 bond. It is alleged that he smashed into two autos at Eleventh and A streets last Sunday afternoon.

Fiery, Itchy Skin Quickly Soothed With Sulphur

Beautiful Hair Fascinates All

The hair fetishist, technically, is a criminal who cannot resist the temptation to steal hair: who cannot see a beautiful woman without being uncontrollably seized with a desire to snip a lock of her hair and carry it away.

Yet the hair fetishist, criminologists say, is only abnormally afflicted with the same fascination for beautiful hair which all of us possess in milder form.

Features are unchangeable. Size and figure are more or less unalterable. But beautiful hair is within the power of every woman.

Regular and thoro cleansing with FITCH SHAMPOO is the first requisite of a clean, dandruff-free scalp, and beautiful, healthy, glossy lustrous hair. Without proper care and attention hair is bound to be dull, thin and scraggly. Use FITCH SHAMPOO and your hair will be clean, colorful, and altogether charming.

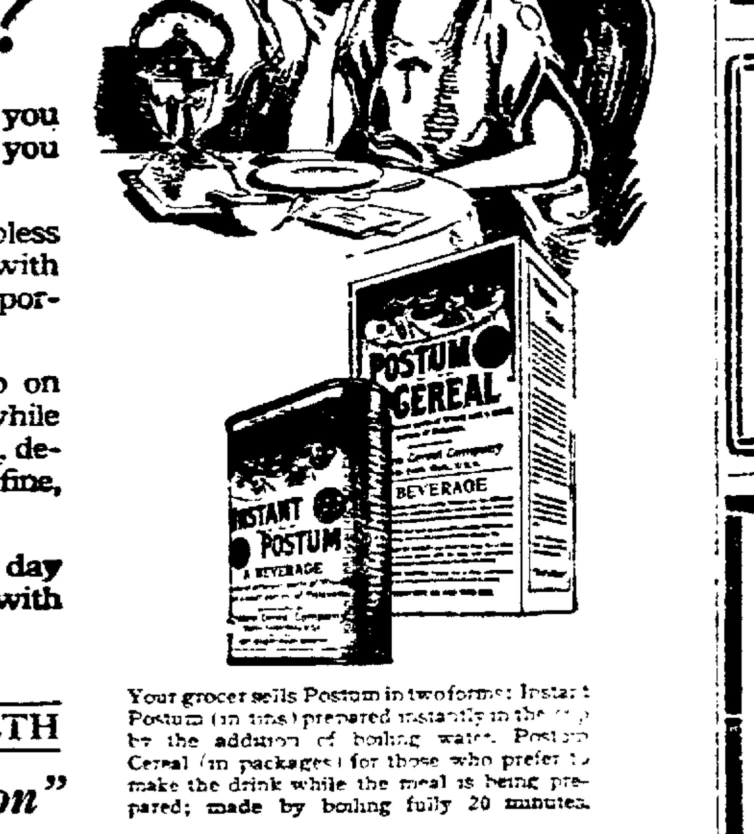

The FITCH SHAMPOO is on sale at first class toilet goods counters in two sizes, 75 cents, $1.50 for family package. Complete directions in package. Applications at leading barber shops.—Advertisement.

FIERY, ITCHY SKIN QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfigurement. Rowles Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.—Adv.

When do you really "wake up" in the morning?

Do the golden morning hours find you wide-awake and fit, or do they find you sleepy and tired?

Coffee is a common cause of sleepless nights, which bring drowsy days with their usual train of neglected opportunities.

Why not get a new, firm grip on yourself, by leaving off coffee for awhile and drinking Postum, a wholesome, delicious, mealtime beverage, with a fine, full-bodied flavor you will like.

You can enjoy Postum any time, day or night, without interference with nerves or digestion.

Postum FOR HEALTH
"There's a Reason"

Your grocer sells Postum in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) prepared instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages) for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared; made by boiling fully 20 minutes.

To Keep Hair Curly in Most Trying Weather

You needn't worry about damp or windy weather spoiling the wavy appearance of your hair if you use silmerine. And you can dance all evening without having your tresses stringing about your face. If you've never tried it, by all means procure a bottle of liquid silmerine from your druggist and follow the accompanying instructions. It will enable you to have just the prettiest waves and curls, so natural looking no one will guess they were artificially produced. The curliness is quickly acquired and lasts considerably longer than where the heated iron is used. Life, lustre and beauty of the hair are preserved by this harmless product. It leaves no sticky or greasy trace—Advertisement.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edward's Olive Tablets.

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for seventeen years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver —constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.—Adv.

DON'T FUSS WITH MUSTARD PLASTERS!

Musterole Works Without the Blister—Easier, Quicker

There's no sense in mixing a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can easily relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other helpful ingredients, combined in the form of the present white ointment. It takes the place of mustard plasters, and will not blister.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia.) 35c and 65c, jars and tubes.

Science Finds Way to Clean Silk Lamp Shades

Denver, Colo.—"Silk Lamp shades can be successfully cleaned in many instances."

"The renewed color and brightness a 'thorough' cleaning will give delicately made shades is another proof of the science and skill required in the cleaning business," said Leo Soukup of the Bodefelt Cleaning company in an address here today.

"Cleaning has developed into a science," Mr. Soukup said, "but there are two fundamental reasons for unsatisfactory work.

"The first one is beyond the control of the cleaner—that is the use of 'counterfeit' materials and poor dye in the silk used in the making of the shade.

"The second cause for poor results is within every woman's power to control. We, the legitimate cleaners of the country, ask her to investigate the cleaning plant before she sends her work there to be cleaned." National campaign for your protection. "Investigate Your Cleaner."

SOUTH IS HIT BY TORNADO

FOURTEEN REPORTED DEAD AND FIFTY MORE INJURED.

Storm Near Alexandria, La., Leaves Several Persons Unaccounted for and Relief Parties Search Wreckage.

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 5. —Twelve persons lost their lives and fifty were injured in a tornado which struck Pineville, near here last night.

Several persons are missing and the number of dead may be increased.

Pineville was a mass of wreckage following the twister, which passed over Texas and Louisiana towns, attaining its fury when it reached the village.

Business houses on Main street and scores of residences were demolished. A number of houses were partially wrecked.

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 5.—Fourteen persons were reported dead and fifty injured today as the result of a tornado which struck Pineville, near here last night.

Several persons were unaccounted for today and relief parties searched thru the wreckage for their bodies.

Fifty homes were demolished by the winds. The streets of the little town were strewn with debris and it will be some time before an estimate can be made of the damage done

Boy scouts and volunteer workers assisted in the relief work. The injured are being cared for in emergency hospitals.

The tornado passed over Alexandria, doing slight damage to homes. When it struck Pineville it had reached its fury.

Striking in the main street, it literally wrecked rows of business buildings and residences.

Scores of box cars were blown from the tracks and trees uprooted by the fierce winds.

HORSEWHIP A WHITE MAN

Woman Forced to Look on While He Is Punished for Allowing Negress to Testify.

MACON, Ga., April 5.—A band of unmasked men who horsewhipped Lynwood J Bright severely, and forced Mrs Fredericka Pace of New York city to look on, was hunted here today

Bright and Mrs. Pace were forcibly taken from an automobile last night and carried to a lonely spot where Bright was flogged until almost unconscious Mrs. Pace was not harmed.

The flogging was administered, Mrs. Pace said the men told her, because Bright allowed a negress to testify for him in his suit for divorce here Tuesday

Bright was given twenty-four hours to leave town following the flogging.

MY MARRIAGE PROBLEMS
Adele Garrison's New Phase of Revelations of a Wife

Copyright, 1923, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

The Disclosure Linda Confidingly Made to Madge.

LINDA'S weak face, which once had been pretty, held the shamed grief and the mulish obstinacy of a child who has been humiliated. She looked moodily at the door through which Grace Draper had just passed, and her chin quivered with futile anger, while impotent tears rolled down her cheeks.

"She hadn't ought to have told the chef I snitched that little bit of hooch," she said plaintively. "It wasn't any harm, but he'll be sore at me, and he's always treated me white. I don't know what made me do it, anyway. I didn't need to."

She stopped abruptly and looked furtively, speculatively at me.

"Say. You look like a good kid," she announced at last. "And you're sore at Gracie, too. Lookit. You wouldn't snitch on me to her, would you, if I showed you somethin?"

I snatched at the heaven-sent opportunity.

"Of course I wouldn't," I assured her warmly.

She nodded her head sagely.

"I knew you were a good kid," she announced, and when she had locked the door she came back to me, staring at me with blinking, red-rimmed eyes.

"You swear you won't tell Gracie," she said.

"I swear it solemnly," I returned.

"Thass all right then," she said, and walking to the radiator, pulled aside the exquisite hooked rug which covered the jagged hole in the floor.

"Come here," she said, with a peremptory jerk of her head.

I obeyed her quickly.

"Kneel down here," she whispered, and when I had done so, she took my hand in hers and thrust it into the jagged hole in the floor boards.

"I'd Like to Go to Sleep."

"Reach over to the right and get what's there," she instructed.

My fingers closed upon a flat bottle which I drew out and handed to her. She took it with a little crooning sound of delight. Then, with a frightened glance at the hole in the floor, she jumped up, dragging me with her, and hastily pushed the rug over the hole.

"There's somebody in the room below," she said nervously, "and that pipe's just like a telephone wire. You can hear just as plain. Nobody knows that but me, though, so don't you tell Gracie."

With one of the freakish impulses of partial intoxication, Linda patently had taken a fancy to me, and for the present I was in high favor with her. She uncorked the bottle, lifted it to her lips, tilted her head back, and with closed eyes and rapturous face took a long draught. Then she held out the bottle with the generous glow of self-sacrifice on her face.

"Have a little snifter," she invited cordially. "You look as if you needed one."

"I'd love to, a little later," I prevaricated promptly. "I have a headache now, and even a taste would make it much worse."

To my great relief, for I feared to offend her, she accepted my explanation.

"I know," she said, wagging her head sagely. "This stuff goes to your head something fierce. I'd like to go sleep right now."

Familiar Voices.

She stood looking vacantly at me for a minute, which seemed endless, then a cunning smile spread over her face.

"I'll tell you," she said. "You're awful tired. Why don't you go to sleep, too? We'll both go to sleep."

I seized the suggestion eagerly.

"That will be splendid!" I said. "Only I don't want to go to bed. I'll just get into a negligee and slippers and lie down on the couch. But it's so near the fire, can't we move it over the other side of the room?"

She considered judicially.

"Why, yes, I guess so," she said. "Take hold."

She was fast reeling slightly when we grasped the couch, and though I watched her furtively, I saw that she suspected nothing when I put the head of the couch so near the hole of the radiator pipe that I could reach down and lift the rug without moving from a reclining position. I straightened myself with a sense of relief.

"Now I'll have a nice rest," I said.

"So will I," she returned. "I'm glad you don't want the bed, for I'm going to take it. I need to stretch—out."

She watched me change to a negligee with eyes which she tried in vain to keep watchful. And no sooner was I ensconced on the couch than she threw herself upon the bed.

I had to wait only a few moments before the sound of her breathing told me she would be safe for hours.

Then I lifted the corner of the rug and listened for sounds from the room below. And when an hour had slipped by my vigil was rewarded by the sound of voices—voices which I recognized as those of Grace Draper and Harry Underwood.

MRS. ONLY CHILD (soothingly)—Now—now, dear, please don't throw your bib away! See, Mama's new dress has two bibs—one in front and one in back. No, indeed, bibs aren't babyish—they're in the height of fashion right now!

YOUR HEALTH
Why Few Cripples Should Ever Give Up Hope of Cure

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.
United States Senator from New York
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

DR. COPELAND

THERE are said to be six cripples in every thousand of the population. When we are well and strong we do not appreciate the value of a perfect body. But the poor, struggling, deformed mortal is forever contrasting his sad lot with that of his physically normal brothers and sisters. The unfortunate six in a thousand are to be pitied.

After all, however, it is amazing how much is accomplished by these handicapped persons. When I see how spry they are, how they make extra use of their good parts, and how successful are their careers, I am somewhat ashamed of the rest of us. We don't do as well as they do. We can take a lesson from them, I am sure.

I confess I had not realized how much crippling there is in the world. It was not until Prof. Adolf Lorenz came to America, and I invited him to hold clinics in the New York Health Department, that I appreciated how many, many sad cases there are in the community. Thousands flocked to Dr. Lorenz, and it was heart-touching to see their misshapen bodies and withered limbs. The consolation found was in the relief afforded some of these little sufferers.

Too Many Abandon Hope.

Let me make clear at once that Prof. Lorenz has no monopoly and claims no superiority in the treatment of cripples. Every competent bone and joint specialist, he declares, can do the same things.

The chief value of his visit was that it excited popular interest in the subject, and educated the public to the welcome news that many cripples can be materially bettered, if not wholly relieved of their afflictions. Too many are going about unconscious of the possibility of cure. Every such person should consult the nearest doctor who specializes in this line.

Unfortunately there are some physical deformities which cannot be overcome because they are founded on permanent defects in the brain or nervous system. One such is called "cerebral paralysis."

You will recall that the chief part of the brain is called the "cerebrum." When there is a tumor, abscess or injury involving the cerebral tissues, there may be paralysis of such parts of the body as are supplied by nerves having their origin in the disturbed portion of the brain. The severity of the paralysis and crippling will depend on the extent and seriousness of the brain disturbance.

Consult Nearest Good Doctor.

The defect or disturbance may occur before the birth of the infant. This may be due to arrested development of the brain or to bleeding within the brain substance. In these cases the children are born partially paralyzed, and, too often, idiotic as well.

Accidents during birth or immediately after are responsible for a lot of cripples. It is important that every attention be given mother and child on this important occasion. Too many deformed bodies and broken hearts are due to carelessness at this time.

In early life scarlet fever, measles, diphtheria and other of the acute infections may have convulsions among their symptoms. As a result, there may be bleeding within the skull, with pressure on the covering or substance of the brain.

Fortunately, many of these paralytic conditions improve with time. Massage, electricity and proper appliances benefit others.

The best advice I can give is to consult some authoritative doctor as to the best treatment to apply in the individual case. This can only be decided, of course, after careful personal examination and accurate diagnosis.

Answers to Health Questions

A. M. B. Q—Do you think there is any harm in using —— on the hair to make it curly?

A—I cannot advise you about the preparation you mention, as I do not know anything about it.

M. A. M. Q—Is there any chance of recovery for a young man 32 years old who has had tuberculosis of the stomach for the past year and a half?

A—There is always a chance of recovery; therefore, treatment should be continued. Rest and plenty of milk, eggs and cream are essential in the treatment of this condition.

M. A. R. Q—I suffer constantly from headaches, which I think are due to worry. Will you please tell me what to do for this trouble?

A—Headaches may be due to high blood-pressure, anemia, kidney complaint, constipation, indigestion or eye-strain. An examination is necessary to find the cause, then the proper treatment can be prescribed. Have your urine examined and your blood-pressure taken; either one may show the cause. You must stop worrying, as this will run down your health.

A. R. Q—Will you please tell me what I can do to remove red marks left by pimples?

A—Hot and cold applications applied alternately, each for 10 minutes, will help to make these spots less noticeable. Massaging the affected parts with a good peroxide cold cream might also prove beneficial.

R. S. Q—I am subject to hay fever and while away in the mountains I had a very severe attack. I am now planning to go there again, but would like to know whether it is advisable.

A—Hay fever is a summer and autumn ailment. Therefore, the trip ought to be very beneficial to you.

AN ANXIOUS MOTHER. Q—My baby, 8 months old, seems to suffocate when feeding. Will you please tell me what causes this?

2—Besides giving her milk, I add cereals and vegetables to her diet. Is this right?

A—The baby draws in air while taking the bottle. Interrupt the feeding and help her expel the air when necessary.

2—The child is a little young for vegetables. You should not give them to her for at least four or five months yet.

Good Night Stories
by Blanch Silver

Illustrated by Neva Harrison

BENNY GOES HUNTING WITH HAPPY GIGGLES.

BENNY shouldered his pop-gun just as he had often seen his Daddy do when he went hunting back in America. Benny was visiting his Aunt Nellie in Africa. He pulled his cap down over his eyes, and, making sure his Aunt Nellie wasn't watching him, sneaked out of the door and down the long road to the woods.

He hunted and hunted and hunted, but not a thing crossed his path.

Benny was just about to give up in despair when a tiny hand touched his elbow. Benny turned around and found Happy Giggles, the elfin from Make-believe Land, smiling at him.

"Do you know the reason you don't see anything?" he asked. "It's because the animals see you with that gun and run away and hide."

"But I want to find a wild boar," lisped Benny. "Aunt Nellie says they run wild around here in Africa. We don't have them around our house, and I do want to tell Daddy I saw one."

"All right, little man," and Happy Giggles's eyes fairly danced. "Let's hide that funny pop-gun under this log and we'll go and call on the best known wild boar family there is around these parts."

The funny-looking pop-gun was soon tucked out of sight, and taking hold of Happy Giggles's hand, Benny trotted along beside the little elfin.

They hadn't gone far when Benny discovered a dusky-brown little fellow with lovely red stripes running down his back.

"There's one of the children now," and Happy Giggles gave a queer whistle. The little wild boar hearing it, came trotting toward the elfin as if he were glad to see him.

"This little friend of mine wants to see your mama and daddy," said the elfin after introducing Benny and shaking the little wild boar's paw. "Is she around here?"

"Asleep," replied the little wild boar.

"Is She Around Here?"

"You know, we most always sleep in the daytime and roam at night. But I'm sure she'll be glad to see you both." And he led the way behind the bushes where Mama Wild Boar and her family of three other children were just awakening.

Daddy Wild Boar, hearing the stir, came trotting back to see about it.

His front teeth or tusks were a great deal longer than his wife's. Benny was glad he had hidden his gun. The tusks stuck up clear over his upper lip, and looked as if he might be able to tear one to pieces if he tried.

Both of their mouths were quite large, and their long heads were set on very short necks. Daddy Wild Boar was at least five feet long, but his wife was not quite so large.

"You don't need a gun when you go hunting, Daddy Wild Boar, do you?" Benny asked, his eyes on those terrible tusks.

"I certainly don't!" laughed Daddy Wild Boar. "These tusks can tear anything that comes my way. You see, the upper and lower tusks coming together the way they do all the time keeps them pretty sharp, and—"

Here a hand touched Benny's head, and Benny opened his eyes. My, how Aunt Nellie laughed when he told her his dream. But she made him promise he'd never go out into the woods alone.

Advice to Girls

By ANNIE LAURIE

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

As I was walking down the street one day a young man with whose name I was familiar winked at me. Since then I have been introduced to him, and have grown to like him very much. Was it right for him to wink at me?

Should he have kissed my hand after he had known me only a very short time?

Should he stay at my house very long after he has taken me to the theatre?

WORRIED.

WORRIED: It was very vulgar for the young man to wink at you, and very impertinent for him to kiss your hand.

No, he should not stay very long when he brings you home from the theatre.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl 18 years of age, and am very fond of a young man two years my senior. He used to like me very much, but I did not realize how much I liked him, and so I gave him no encouragement. I am very popular with the girls, and although none of the young men dislike me, I am not very popular with them. I am afraid that this young man may have been influenced by what he has heard from some of his friends.

He has had a good position in another town for about half a year, but will be back on a six weeks' furlough in a few months. He has not written to me since he went away. What can I do to regain his favor? I am very backward about making advances. I am very good-looking.

BASHFUL BROWN EYES.

BASHFUL BROWN EYES: When the young man returns invite him to call on you. This is neither forward nor unladylike.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl 18 years old. I have been going with a young man two years older than myself. He asked me to be his wife. Do you think I am too young to marry?

BROWN-EYED EVA.

BROWN-EYED EVA: It would be well to wait at least until the young man is of age, my dear.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am 22 years of age, and have been married and divorced now for over two years. I have a sweet little boy about 2 years of age.

I have been keeping company with a man twice my age. He tells me he cares for no one except me, and I know he has devoted his entire time and attention to me only. He is so nice to both me and baby, seems to enjoy waiting on both of us when he is in our presence, and seems to exert every effort in trying to please me. Do you think his age should hinder us from being married?

THE BLONDE WIDOW.

THE BLONDE WIDOW: The difference between your ages is very great, my dear. However, there are just such cases which have worked out very happily. It is not age which matters, but whether you are congenial and love each other. It would be better to ask someone who knows you both to advise you.

Annie Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. Letters to Miss Laurie should be addressed to her, in care of this office.

HEROINES OF HISTORY
Significant Incidents in the Lives of Famous Women
By MARK STUYVESANT

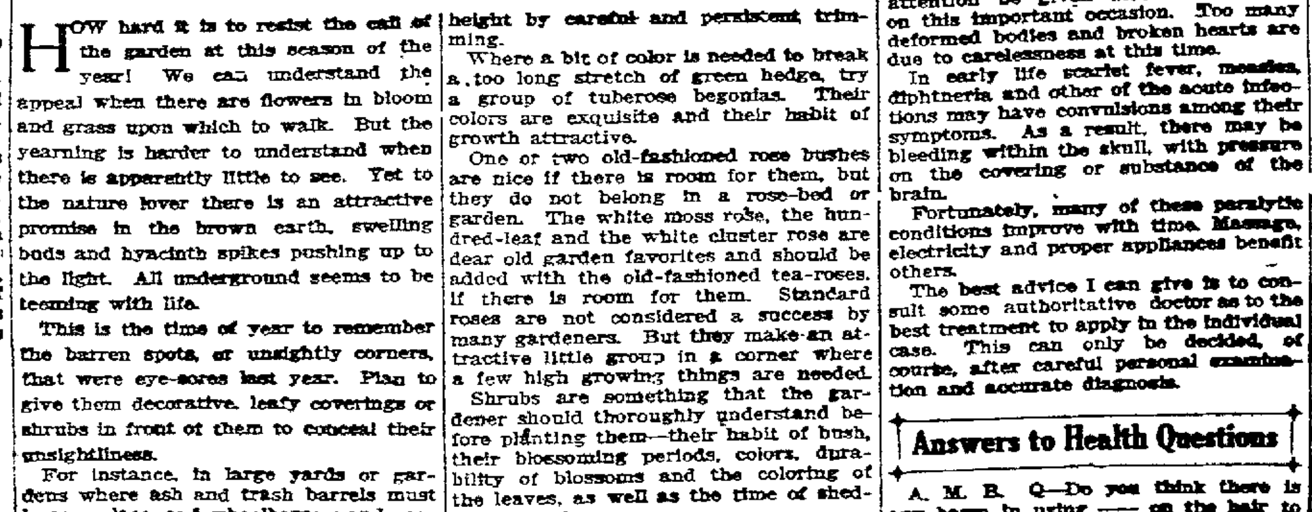

How Dolly Madison Won Fame as "First Lady of the Land."

AFTER the war of 1812 between the United States and England, the new British ambassador who came to Washington said of the mistress of the White House:

"Mrs. Madison was every inch a queen."

And this queenly woman—Dolly Madison as she is known to all—was born a quiet little Quakeress.

In those days, slaves were the standard by which a southerner's wealth was measured. And the family of Dolly—or Dorothea—was reduced to almost poverty when her father, on account of his religious convictions, sold his slaves.

Congressman Madison Was Introduced to Dorothea Todd by Aaron Burr.

It was only natural that this religious young girl should marry one of her own sect—which she did, a Quaker by the name of Todd.

When she was 24, Mr. Todd died, leaving his young wife penniless.

It was for this reason that Dolly and her mother opened a boarding-house in Philadelphia, which was at that time the capital of the United States.

Dolly was a real beauty. Everyone looked at her. All men wanted to meet her, but most anxious of all was Congressman Madison, who represented his native state of Virginia in the national legislative body.

So eager was he to make the acquaintance of this fascinating young widow that he humbled himself to his enemy, Aaron Burr, and begged him to introduce him to the girl who interested him so keenly.

Mrs. Washington was a devoted friend of Dolly, and did much to further the match.

At the end of a year of widowhood, Dolly married her forty-three-year-old statesman lover.

It was then that Dolly put aside her drab Quaker garb, and burst forth like a beautiful butterfly in the finest frocks of the latest fashions.

Some of her letters telling of the excitement over the arrival of hats and gowns from Paris are most charming in their naivete.

Madison was very anxious for his beautiful wife to grace society. At the White House she was a great favorite. And at their lovely estate in Montpelier, Virginia, Dolly entertained in lavish style.

When Jefferson became President, Madison was appointed secretary of state. And it fell to Dolly to act as hostess at the White House, which was now in Washington. For Jefferson was a widower.

Dolly won all hearts and was the queen of Washington society. She had a natural social grace and a most engaging wit.

Naturally, when Madison succeeded Jefferson as President, Dolly was thoroughly equipped to be "the First Lady of the Land."

And not only was Dolly gifted in the social art, but she was a skilled politician. She was her husband's adviser.

Of Dolly Madison, James G. Blaine said:

"She saved the administration for her husband; held him back from the extremes of Jeffersonianism, and enabled him to escape the terrible dilemma of the war of 1812. But for her, De Witt Clinton would have been President in 1812."

Dolly Madison stands out as a real heroine of official life in the early history of the United States. No mistress of the White House ever presided with greater charm or dignity, at the same time supporting her husband in the most difficult affairs of state, than the toast of her day—"Dolly Madison."

HOME-MAKING HELPS

Have You Heard the Alluring Call of the Spring Garden?

HOW hard it is to resist the call of the garden at this season of the year! We can understand the appeal when there are flowers in bloom and grass upon which to walk. But the yearning is harder to understand when there is apparently little to see. Yet to the nature lover there is an attractive promise in the brown earth, swelling buds and hyacinth spikes pushing up to the light. All underground seems to be teeming with life.

This is the time of year to remember the barren spots, or unsightly corners, that were eye-sores last year. Plan to give them decorative, leafy coverings or shrubs in front of them to conceal their unsightliness.

For instance, in large yards or gardens where ash and trash barrels must have a place, and wheelbarrow and garden tools as well, a good stout trellis will make a shield, and over it a thick vine may be trained. Trumpet vine, Madeira vine, morning glory vines, gourd vines and many others are excellent for the purpose. Even wild grape vines are pretty, if they are kept in order on the trellis. But they have vagrant notions and must be watched.

In planning special beds, don't forget the iris family, if there is room. These flowers are decorative in appearance and are fragrant as well. The old-fashioned clove pinks—are a joy in a garden where flowers which can be cut are wanted. Their odd blue-green foliage makes a decorative color addition and the fragrance is alluring. Make the pinks a feature in a little old-fashioned garden corner by planting phlox, lemon verbenas, rose geranium, tuberoses, forget-me-nots and lilies of the valley nearby.

In one garden seen last summer, tomato vines were growing in square slat cages that were intended to hold the branches when the tomatoes grew big and heavy on them. This method keeps them off the ground, so they ripen instead of rotting where the sun cannot reach them.

The parsley grew in a board frame six inches high that gave it a very exclusive appearance, but which was really intended to set the frame on when the growing season was past and to keep it intact for winter use.

Hardy annual asters are a joy in the garden, for they come at a time when the frailer flowers are almost done. In arranging them carefully the most glorious [illegible] schemes may be created. Where small boundary lines are needed, low-growing privet hedges that once started, may be kept at any desired height by careful and persistent trimming.

Where a bit of color is needed to break a too long stretch of green hedge, try a group of tuberose begonias. Their colors are exquisite and their habit of growth attractive.

One or two old-fashioned rose bushes are nice if there is room for them, but they do not belong in a rose-bed or garden. The white moss rose, the hundred-leaf and the white cluster rose are dear old garden favorites and should be added with the old-fashioned tea-roses, if there is room for them. Standard roses are not considered a success by many gardeners. But they make an attractive little group in a corner where a few high growing things are needed.

Shrubs are something that the gardener should thoroughly understand before planting them—their habit of bush, their blossoming periods, colors, durability of blossoms and the coloring of the leaves, as well as the time of shedding their leaves.

All these points must be studied in order to know where shrubs will do best and be a great addition to the garden.

Diary of a Fashion Model
By GRACE THORNCLIFFE

She Describes a Vividly-Charming Street Frock in White and Red.

IT is charming on the person who can wear it well, but a total failure if it doesn't suit her coloring," I heard Madame say.

I joined the circle in the salon and found they were speaking of the color red.

"Miss Lockett, now, wears it to perfection," Madame added.

"Yes," the designer agreed, "she is lovely in that red wool crepe we're doing for her."

"Is she coming for a fitting today?" Madame asked.

"Yes," the designer informed her. "This is her last fitting."

"Do let me know," Madame answered. "I should like to see her in it."

"Her dark brown eyes and hair are wonderful with the vivid red," the designer continued.

"And I should think it would go with her creamy skin to perfection," Madame remarked.

I reflected that although red is a warm color, it takes all the color from a pale skin. Therefore one must have rather vivid coloring to wear it well.

"Miss Lockett is just the personality for red," I thought to myself.

And this thought impressed itself again when I saw the young lady in question.

The fitter had 'phoned upstairs for Madame, who had expressed a wish to see the model after its last fitting.

Madame came down the broad steps [illegible] Miss Lockett emerged from one of the little fitting-rooms. The long lines of white piping on the dress stood out [illegible] the red.

"It isn't exactly a quiet costume," Miss Lockett remarked. "But I do think it is becoming."

"And why should it be quiet?" Madame queried. "You're young and can express your personality in your choice of colors."

"I like the one-sided effect," Miss Lockett said, flipping the sash which tied at her left hip.

Tomorrow's HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, APRIL 6.

This bids fair to be an eventful and interesting day, according to some of the mutual directions which point to occurrences or experiences out of the ordinary. The Solar orb, being in aspect with both Uranus and Neptune, both planets of very high vibration, may precipitate unusual or singular events or heighten the faculties or the more material energies in the direction of some of the higher forces, such as radio, aeronautics or in the realm of mind toward occult or metaphysical research. The planet Jupiter assists, and new friends are promised.

Those whose birthday it is have the augury of an interesting year, with possibly the activities reaching out into strange fields of experience or investigation. It should be a prosperous year and one of friendships. A child born on this day will have a leaning toward the occult, or be inclined to work with nature's finer forces. It should be successful, and have many friends.

TELLS DENVER OF ALLIANCE

CITY MANAGER KEMMISH VISITS THE QUEEN CITY.

Consults District Attorney Who Uncovered Bunco Ring, in Regard to Sociological Problems.

DENVER, Col., April 5...The victory of Philip Van Cise, district attorney of Denver in uncovering the bunco ring has brought to Denver many officials from other cities for consultation. Among the late arrivals was N. A. Kemmish, city manager of Alliance, Neb. Mr. Kemmish declares that Alliance under the present system of government of non-political city managership is one of the most prosperous and progressive cities of its size in the United States. He came to Denver to consult the district attorney on the sociological problems that are now confronting Alliance. "This problem," says City Manager Kemmish is a paramount one and upon its solution Alliance will take rank as one of the most modern communities anywhere in the United States." He declared that it was his opinion that Van Cise was the one person who could give him the best advice. Manager Kemmish explained, when questioned, that the system of non-political city manager form of government was only recently adopted by Alliance but the plan has worked so successfully, that according to Mr. Kemmish, the United States government research bureau has selected Alliance as one of ten towns having this form of government to report on its operation. He stated that at present there are 300 towns having the city-manager non-political system.

In reviewing the work of his home town Mr. Kemmish stated that in the last two years Alliance had paid off $18,000 of its bonded indebtedness. This, in comparison with the payment of $30,000 in the last twenty years. He declared that at the latter rate it would take the town 300 years to get on the right side of the ledger. He pointed out also that the expense of running the town had decreased from $2.10 per capita in 1916 to 95 cents last year.

If Alliance continues under the present form of government it is the opinion of Manager Kemmish that the town will eventually be on a paying basis and show an earning each year. He says that politicians have become reconciled to the plan and admit that the system which does not require the manager to be a resident of the town, has proved entirely satisfactory.

"There is no need for injecting politics into city affairs," declared Manager Kemmish. "Whether a city manager is a republican or a democrat should not have the slightest bearing on city government. In Alliance the city manager has the power of appointment and hires and fires as he thinks best. He attends all meetings of the city council but has no vote in their deliberations."

CLEAR BILL FOR WILLS

Alibi Witnesses at Herrin Trial Testify Executive Board Member of Union Not in Massacre.

MARNON, Ill., April 5.—"Alibi witnesses" today testified Hugh Wills, executive board member of the Illinois mine workers, had no part in the Herrin massacre.

Wills is charged by the prosecution in the Herrin riot trial as the "arch conspirator" of the massacre, and named by several state witnesses as a member of the mob at the power house where fourteen non-union coal miners were shot down, was several miles away from the Lester mine when the shooting occurred, defense witnesses told the jury.

Phillip Fontainette, according to nine witnesses, was playing cards in the front yard of a house across the street from his home in Marion thruout the morning of June 22, the day of the massacre.

Bert Grace, another of the defendants, was chatting with a Marion constable in the courthouse square while the riots were in progress, six witnesses testified.

FIGHT OVER KLAN PALACE

Civil Court Judge Will Probably Decide Whether Simmons or Evans Secures Possession.

ATLANTA, April 5.—A civil court judge will probably decide who is to preside over the imperial palace of the knights of the ku klux klan.

Sheriff J. L. Lowry remained in charge of the klan's headquarters today. Pending decision of Judge E. D. Thomas in a dispute between Col. William Joseph Simmons, founder of the klan, and Imperial Wizard H. W. Evans, over which is the rightful ruler of the "palace."

Simmons was ordered to vacate yesterday by the court shortly after he had removed Evans, on authority of an injunction restraining the latter from further conduct of klan affairs.

Warrants have been issued for N. N. Furney, cashier of the secret society, and T. J. McKinnon, chief of the "investigation department," charging embezzlement of klan funds. The papers were sworn to by E. J. Jones, "secretary" to Colonel Simmons. The warrants charge Furney appropriated $80,000 of the klan's money and McKinnon, $20,000.

Furney and McKinnon will appear in court today in connection with the charges, Paul Etheridge, their attorney, declared.

Thrashing Things Out.

For a moment it looked as if Evelyn and Willows were on the verge of their first quarrel. Willows insisted upon a household budget and accounting for every penny which was spent during the week. Evelyn insisted that she couldn't keep one, that figures made her head ache and that this newly inflicted budget plan was ruining her married felicity.

"I won't keep a budget, and that is all there is to it," declared Evelyn, with a little stamp of her foot.

"Then do you want me to take over all the money affairs and do the marketing and buying myself?" asked Willows. "I have known men who did this and I've always thought what cads they were, but now I'm beginning to realize that some women can't keep figures."

"I was getting along all right. We had a good table, but I can't be pinned down as to every penny and halfpenny I spend."

"You were getting along all right as long as you had my allowance and your own checking account to dip into," declared her husband. "But how long do you think that little money of yours is going to last at the rate you are withdrawing it? What will you do after it is gone? What I want to do, dear, is to drill you now, when you are just beginning to take charge of things and realize the value of money for the first time in your life."

"Don't 'dear me,'" returned Evelyn. "Maybe we did make a mistake, after all."

"What do you mean?" demanded Willows.

"Aunt Edna said that a girl reared the way I have been always found she couldn't get on when she married a man in moderate circumstances."

"You're putting it too light. Your dowager aunt most likely said when she married a 'chauffeur or a ten-cent clerk.' Well, then you admit it is a failure?"

Again they glared at each other. Evelyn began to cry.

Willows lighted a cigaret and walked about the room.

"I want an answer," he said, suddenly stopping in front of her.

"You know I don't consider our marriage a failure," she said laughing nervously and looking up at him thru a veil of tears.

"You darling, of course I do," he said, kissing her. "But, we've got to fix things up. Really, dear, we must make out this budget every week and make everything tally."

She nodded submissively.

"I know I seem like a brute to demand this," he continued, "but it's the only safe way for us. We're going to get ahead and it's up to me to see that we do. But don't think I'm such an old tightwad, sweetheart. I haven't forgotten that we are still on our honeymoon, even if we are keeping house in a four-room rear flat. Every Saturday afternoon we're going to see a show, hire a motor car and spin into the country or celebrate our honeymoon some way."

"I know you're always planning something different for me, and I'm going to keep that budget like an expert accountant," laughed Evelyn.

The bell rang and Willows answered it, only to bring back the dreaded yellow telegram envelope.

"From Aunt Edna, I suppose," said Evelyn, thrusting her fingers through the seal.

"Mrs. Pennington Bowers passed away at 9:30 p. m." she read aloud and then burst into tears.

"And when poor Aunt Edna was dying you and I were quarreling over a budget account," she sobbed.

To-morrow—A Revengeful Will.

KERENSKY AN EDITOR.

BERLIN, (By mail.)—Alexander Kerensky, prime minister under the constitutional regime in Russia, after the overthrow of the czar, is editing a newspaper printed in Russian here. The paper is called the Dni. London newspapers recently printed a story that Kerensky was working as a waiter in London but it has since developed that he has been doing newspaper work in Prague, preceding his assumption of the editorship of the Dni here.

"LOBSTER PALACES" CLOSE.

NEW YORK, April 5.—One by one the "lobster palaces" of the Great White Way are passing.

Shanley's is the latest. Before that there was a long and glittering array that passed into the darkness—Churchhill's, the Knickerbocker hotel, the Claridge, Sherry's, Rector's, Healey's, Reisenweber's, and many less noted. They are victims of prohibition. They couldn't run at a profit without selling liquor. They couldn't sell liquor and remain open.

NEW CANAL RECORD.

ANCON, C. Z., (By mail.)—A new record for the Panama canal was made the first half of March, when 208 commerce vessels passed thru the canal in fifteen days and paid $935,608 06 in tolls. The receipts of the canal are steadily increasing, the daily average for fifteen days in March being higher by 68 per cent compared with last October.

Watering the Stock.

Edgar Selwyn, the New York impresario, was talking on the Olympic about the swimming pools that are a feature of the newest and most luxurious liners.

"For these swimming pools and open-air restaurants and so forth,' he said, "we passengers pay high enough, goodness knows.

"To tell the truth, I am rather in sympathy with the plump, dark lady who stood on the marble brink of a liner's swimming pool the other day and screamed angrily at her dark, plump daughter:

"'Counfount dot girl, she never learns noddings! Minna, Minna, schwim into der deep vater, und get der vort' of your money!'"—Los Angeles Times.

Corn can be varied more quickly by selection of seed than can any other food crop.

"I'll be at Hotel Astor"

TIMES SQUARE—NEW YORK

Whether you stop at the Astor a day, a week or a month, you will appreciate its convenience to both the business and social centers of the city, and enjoy to the full the atmosphere of home comfort and undisturbed seclusion for which its guest rooms are noted.

DRUGS EXCITE THE KIDNEYS, DRINK WATER

Take Salts at First Sign of Bladder Irritation or Backache.

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat often too much red meat and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish, the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache, or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or if you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus often ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia water beverage and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Advertisement.

Your Problems
BY MARY GORDON

Dear Mary Gordon: I read your [illegible] the State Journal quite regu[illegible] and think your advice to others in [illegible] good, so am coming to you [illegible] troublesome problem of my [illegible] with the hope that you can help [illegible]

[illegible] I am a young man in my [illegible] twenties and am making plans [illegible] married in the near future. But [illegible] is my problem: Should I go [illegible] or not? I am a cripple and [illegible] eight years my wife-to-be's [illegible] Do you think the difference in [illegible] is too great for happiness? [illegible] lots of people would condemn [illegible] account of ages, but, Mary, we [illegible] know each other the past two [illegible] and have been engaged over [illegible] seem to me that we should know [illegible] would pretty well as we surely are [illegible] enough and have known each [illegible] so long. We have been together [illegible] every day as we both worked [illegible] same place. She has helped [illegible] school and in many other [illegible] ways. Of course how could I help [illegible]

[illegible] worry when I think it might, [illegible] all, be her sympathy for me on account of my disability more than [illegible] when we are apart, we are [illegible] sure. It looks to me like if it were true and lasting love we wouldn't be so all wrapped up in each [illegible]. We have tried to part as we both worried and wondered if [illegible] union as ours should be; but [illegible] could not succeed in any attempt [illegible] off; instead it seemed to [illegible] closer together.

On account of my condition I went [illegible] the board of health for an examination and they found me fit [illegible] marriage and gave me a written [illegible] out of the fact. But listen, Mary: [illegible] mother will simply go crazy. I am [illegible] it, we marry as she doesn't believe in cripples marrying, or when the difference in ages is on the girl's side. Do you think she would get over it in time, if we were to go ahead regardless to her protests?

My parents approve of such a union and are willing to help us get a start. We would hate to do anything that we would regret later on, when it would be too late. Please give me your advice on this matter.—"Troubled Heart."

A. The difference in ages is not too great if you are both willing to face the future, with a determination to make the best of it. And if this young woman loves you and you love her, and you are sure you can support her in spite of your condition, I think you are both old enough to go ahead without her mother's consent. Mothers do not "go crazy" over such things. Other mothers have endured shame and disgrace for their children's sake. There is nothing shameful in this. You have been the victim of misfortune. I am glad you are about to be happy and I wish you both all the happiness and prosperity in the world.

Dear Mary Gordon: The first letter I read in your column last evening was one from a person who called himself "an old man" and signed himself "A member of the triple alliance." His trouble was that he was in love with his minister's wife and also in love with his own wife. You seemed frightened to try to smooth out such a serious state of affairs. I thought you did fine for one so young; but if I had been handling the situation I should have demanded that he stand against the wall and face a firing squad. He would soon know which he loved the best, and it would be his wife. But don't let him get away—let the squad fire. There are already too many of his kind, breaking hearts and destroying homes. Ruthless, brainless—I would not mention "heart"—in such a specimen of humanity. I hope he will read this: it is from one who has suffered or I might apologize to you for what may seem harsh language.—A. H.

A. We'll have to go to Russia, if we want to carry out such a sentence, won't we?

If it came to a real test, I'm sure he would find he loved his wife not only best, but alone.

Dear Mary Gordon: After reading "Green Eyes'" letter it is impossible for me to be still. Oh, how I would like to shake that woman. I am a "grass" widow of five years with two boys and, believe me, if my husband had even loved me one-tenth as much as hers seem to her, I would of thought I was in heaven. But every night was spent alone, knowing he was loving someone else, for he told me so, and that he didn't and wouldn't try to love; so after five years of such a life I left him. I have never been sorry, altho God knows it is sometimes hard to make ends come out even. But I do, and we dress and live on the average.

I work early and late, tho, to keep it up. If "Green Eyes" had a year of life to contend with that I have, how she would control herself and "thank God" for her many "blessings!" I believe that if she would look around she would see many others who had real trouble and do something to help them, and put her time and mind on other things; besides, her temper and useless suspicions would soon vanish. Sure wish I could meet "Ruined Hope" as she is a girl to be pitied. But hold your head high and look the world squarely in the face and you'll be a winner some day. Every cloud has a silver lining, but it's hard to wait for our silver lining. I'm young and have had lots of trouble, but I smile and go on, looking for my silver-lined cloud. Hope this isn't too long. I will close, again hoping "Green Eyes" victory before she loses "love," "home," "husband" and all the world holds for one.—"Another One Troubled."

A. "Green Eyes" should listen to one who has had bitter experience. It's only thru suffering that we learn true sympathy and understanding of others' troubles, isn't it?

I thank you for the kind words to Ruined Hope. She needs them all anything unkind you might say about her friend.

GERALD DWIGHT SHIELDS

Is the eleven-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Shields. He is very fond of music and will jump up and down when-ever the victrola is played for him. He also walks well. The above picture was taken at seven months.

Dear Mary Gordon: I am a girl almost in my teens and would like if you would be so kind as to answer my question.

One of the girls in my room seems mad at me sometimes: she is mad now because I don't like her friend as well as her. I love her very much. Do you think it is a case of "love me, love my dog"? I have nothing against this other girl except that she is too silly. Do you think I should pay any attention to that?—Dickie.

A. You could be nice to her, even if you don't like her, couldn't you? Not only for the sake of your friend, but because courtesy demands it. The girl you like would naturally resent

Economical Raisin Pie.

Two cups raisins, 1 1-2 cups water, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1-3 cup sugar. Boil raisins, water and sugar for five minutes. Dissolve constarch in a little water and add. Remove from fire, add cinnamon and stir thoroly. Bake between two crusts, sprinkling top crust with sugar before putting in oven.

LARGE FIRE AT PARIS, ILL.

Believed of Incendiary Origin Since Two Men Were Seen Running From Store Where It Started.

PARIS, Ill., April 5.—The northeast section of the business district of Paris and several residences were destroyed by fire believed incendiary last night and early today at a loss of more than $200,000.

Fire apparatus was summoned from nearby cities after flames broke out in three places at about the same time and spread before a forty-mile gale.

Two men reported by citizens to have been seen running from the Witt seed store, where the blaze originated, were responsible for the incendiary theory held by authorities.

Now a QUICK Quaker Oats
Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

Please Note That
Oats almost ready—quicker than eggs

Now your grocer has Quick Quaker Oats.
They are the quickest cooking oats in the world.
Try them if you want your breakfast in a hurry.
The dish will be ready, and cooked to perfection, long before the coffee.

Like the Quaker you know

No difference in quality or flavor.
You get in Quick Quaker all the Quaker delights.
We simply cut the oats before flaking. Then they are rolled very thin and partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

Now Quaker comes in two styles—take your choice.
Both are flaked from the finest grains only—just the rich, plump, flavory oats. We get but ten pounds of these delicious flakes from a bushel.
But note what this means in flavor.
Here is a dish that every oat lover loves.
Millions of mothers, all the world over, send across seas to get it. And it makes this supreme food doubly welcome to children everywhere.
Insist on Quaker—either style—for the children's sake.

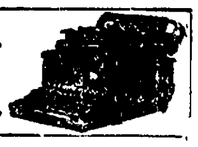

Regular Quaker Oats
Come in package at left—the style you have always known.

Quick Quaker Oats
Come in package at right, with the "Quick" label.
Your grocer has both. Be sure to get the style you want.

Before Baby Comes

THERE are thousands of expectant mothers who undergo much useless suffering for months before, as well as at the moment when delivery occurs. These months of suffering, with nerves and vital organs weakened, leave their effect upon the child. An eminent physician found the way to stop much of this unnecessary suffering—the same easy way which thousands of mothers have used for three generations.

Mrs. Walter S. Hadley, Bridgeport, Ind., says: "Before my little boy came I was so paralyzed in my hips and limbs I could hardly walk, and some days after a little extra exertion I couldn't walk a step. I felt it coming on this time; in fact, I could hardly get up when I sat down, but now, after using one bottle of Mother's Friend, I am so much better. I feel that I almost owe my life to Mother's Friend."

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally to the abdomen, back and hips. It penetrates remarkably, permitting the easier relaxation and distension of muscles, nerves, tissues and ligaments, and their constant easier readjustment during expectancy and at child-birth. Have no more fear or dread, mother! Start using "Mother's Friend" now—the sooner the better.

Mrs. C. J. Hartman, Scranton, Pa., says: "With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse, and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I used Mother's Friend and had only a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor, because I wasn't very sick—only about ten or fifteen minutes."

"Mother's Friend" contains no narcotics or harmful drugs. It is safe. For three generations "Mother's Friend" has relieved expectant mothers of much useless suffering. Mother! you must avoid mere greases and useless substitutes. Begin using "Mother's Friend" today. It is sold at drug stores—everywhere.

Genuine Aspirin
BAYER

SAY "BAYER" when you buy Aspirin

Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting the genuine Bayer product prescribed by physicians over twenty-two years and proved safe by millions for colds, headache, toothache, earache, neuralgia, lumbago, rheumatism, neuritis, and for pain in general. Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proper directions. Handy boxes of twelve tablets cost few cents. Druggists also sell bottles of 24 and 100. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.

! fear

Are you self-conscious and fearful of the impression you are making on people you come in contact with?

FEAR is probably the greatest handicap any man or woman can have in life. Lack of poise and self-confidence can do more to hold you back both in business and socially than any other one thing.

It keeps you from being your real self, from doing your downright best and from getting on in life as you should.

Your personal appearance often has a lot to do with the way you feel about this. If you know you're rightly dressed and well-groomed you immediately feel more at ease with people.

Still there is one thing that so many people overlook—something that immediately brands them as really fastidious or careless—the teeth. Notice today how you, yourself, watch another's person's teeth when he or she talks. If they are not well-kept, your teeth at once become a liability.

Only the right dentrifrice—consistently used—will protect you against such criticism. Listerine Tooth Paste cleans teeth a new way. The first tube you buy (25 cents) or the free sample (see coupon) will prove this to you.

You will notice the improvement even in the first few days. And, moreover, just as Listerine is the safe antiseptic, so Listerine Tooth Paste is the safe dentifrice. It cleans yet it cannot injure the enamel.

What are your teeth saying about you today?

NORTHCLIFFE'S WIDOW WEDS

Carries Out Last Wishes of Famous Publisher by Marrying His Friend.

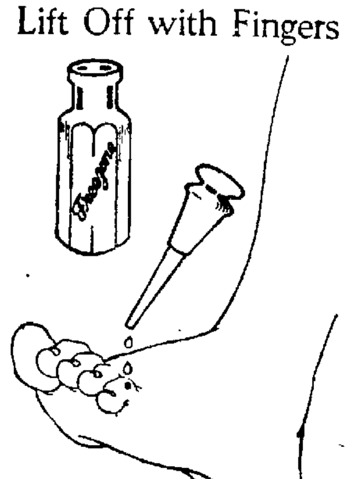

LONDON, April 5.—Among the last wishes of Viscount Northcliffe, late British publisher, was that his widow should marry Sir Robert Hudson, a mutual friend. Lord Northcliffe died in August of last year, and today following a quiet wedding at Hartlesbury castle, in Worcestershire, the pair were on their honeymoon.

Undesirable Job.

Ethel—Did you hear about Gladys? She has a position as detective in one of the big department stores. Clara—Well, I don't envy her. Imagine being known as a plain-clothes woman.—

I Can Help You R-E-C-O-V-E-R From Rupture

THAT:

It is not necessary to suffer the terrible tortures of a tight-fitting, skin-tearing, cruel truss to recover from rupture.

THAT:

With the great blessing of the wonderful SPONGE RUBBER RUPTURE PAD, every single trace of truss agony is completely banished—every physical misery inflicted by the old-fashioned truss literally flies away—the terrible fears usually accompanying rupture are forgotten, and each suffering ruptured mortal can again live in perfect ease and bodily freedom.

If you want to banish the tortures of the truss, if you want to receive FREE information, and a FREE sample pad of this remarkable device for rupture relief, write to E. H. Scott, Hernia Expert, 383 P, Scott Bldg., Akron, Ohio, and the pad with all particulars will be sent you by return mail.

REMEMBER:

This FREE PROOF CAMPAIGN may not last forever. Don't put it off until your torturing truss has wrecked your nerves, impaired your health, and wasted your strength away.

BUT TO-DAY:

Right now while you are thinking about it, take advantage of this generous offer.—Advertisement.

NEWS FROM NEBRASKA

MATHEWS INVOLVED IN BANK FAILURE

William Gove, Vice President of College View Institution Which Failed, Says Colonial Bonds Responsible.

OMAHA, April 5.—Willard V. Mathews, former president of the Guaranty Securities company, was instrumental in injecting $16,000 of Colonial Timber and Coal corporation bonds into the reorganized aFrmers State bank of College View, Neb., which caused the bank's failure, William L. Gove, its vice president, testified in the Colonial mail fraud case here Wednesday.

Rev. Charles H. Rogers, Lincoln, wrote him the bonds were unquestionably safe, Gove said, and produced Rogers' letters to prove his statement. One of the letters stated Rogers had been over the 700,000 acres of West Virginia land and "stood amazed at the great trees on it, dumb with wonder."

AN EPIDEMIC OF ACCIDENTS

Small Children at Central City Have an Unlucky Week—No Fatalities.

CENTRAL CITY, Neb., April 5.—A series of accidents to children occurred in this city this week. Danny Snyder, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Major Snyder, while attempting to catch a ride on the rear end of a dray wagon driven by Elmer Watkins was in some manner caught in the wheel and his leg was broken in three places and he sustained other minor bruises.

Earl Rice, six-year-old son of Clyde Rice, was found unconscious in the yard where he had been playing and it was several hours before he regained his senses. His parents are at a loss to determine how the accident occurred.

Jack Pease sustained minor injuries while returning home from kindergarten. He attempted to cross the street in front of his home and was struck by a car.

BRIEF STATE NEWS.

Franklin—The death of Mrs. Lemuel Robinson, which occurred at the home of her son Ivan in Bloomington Monday, April 2, removed one of the earliest settlers of Franklin county. The family having come to Riverton in 1879. For twenty years past she has been an invalid, being confined to a chair or couch, requiring constant attention and care. For the past eight years her son Ivan and daughter have been caring for her. She was buried at Franklin.

Franklin—Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Ready of Riverton celebrated their thirty-fifth wedding anniversary Sunday. Many of their near relatives were present.

Wauneta—A heavy, wet snow preceding the rain fell here Tuesday. This is the most moisture that has fallen in this section this season and will be of untold value to the wheat crop. Altho we have had very little moisture the past winter the wheat crop is very promising.

McCook—Harry Howarth, jr., history and athletics, McCook high school, will go to Scottsbluff next year at a salary of $2,300. McCook is paying $1,800 for his services this year.

McCook—Thomas C. Rees, veteran Burlington dispatcher and station agent, was buried here Tuesday afternoon with Masonic honors. His services with the Burlington in Iowa and Nebraska covered practically a half century.

Callaway—John Ferguson of Taylor lost seventy-one spring chickens when a brooder became too hot and set fire to the chicken house.

Callaway—The Wright drug store, which has been in business in Callaway for several years, changed hands, and Robert Wieldand of Callaway became the owner. Mr. Wright will leave for Fort Worth, Tex., where he will enter into business.

Humboldt—The funeral of Mrs. Charley Strahn, eighty years of age, occurred from the Christian church here, Rev. B. H. Dawson officiating. She was the wife of Charles Strahn, a farmer and civil war veteran.

Humboldt—Rev. Charles H. Bandy, a Presbyterian missionary to India, where he spent twenty-eight years, will speak at the Presbyterian church Thursday evening of this week. Dr. Bandy is a brother of Rev. John V. Bandy, pastor of the Methodist church here.

Fairfield—The condition of the wheat crop in this section is still a question. The strong wind of Sunday was very hard on it. But Monday night there was a nice shower of rain and on Tuesday night about a half inch of wet snow fell and was still snowing Wednesday forenoon.

OMAHA CHAMBER PROTESTS

Opposed to Any Cut by Legislature That Will Cripple Education in Nebraska.

OMAHA, Neb., April 5.—While the Omaha Chamber of commerce is in accord with the present legislative program of cutting down all state expenses, it is opposed to any cut that will cripple education in Nebraska. The chamber's executive committee Tuesday afternoon went on record as heartily indorsing Governor Bryan's budget recommended for the state university appropriation. Each member from Douglas county is urged to support the governor's budget.

Papillion School Bonds

If not sold before your order reaches us, we offer thirty bonds of $1,000 each, issued by School District Number 27 (Papillion) of Sarpy County, Nebraska, dated August 1, 1922, due $2,000 each year from 1925 to 1939, inclusive; interest at 5 per cent, payable February 1 and August 1.

This school district covers 6,920 acres and includes the town of Papillion, county seat of Sarpy county. The district enjoys taxes from about four and a half miles of railroad; has about 1,000 population, including about 250 children of school age. Assessed valuation of taxable property in the district is two million dollars and the total debt, including this bond issue, is $55,000.

These bonds were issued to build an addition to the present school building and supply heating, plumbing and lighting systems for the addition. They are approved by Chapman, Cutler & Parker of Chicago. We sell them to yield 4.70 per cent, which today means that the bonds due August 1, 1928, will cost you $1,014.40 each; those falling due August 1, 1938, will cost you $1,032.80; and the other maturities a price somewhere between these two figures.

The income from these bonds is free from the Federal income tax; and the bonds themselves are not taxable for State and local purposes. Hence, the $47.00 of net interest you receive on a thousand dollar bond is net in every way. Write, wire, telephone or call at our office.

ELECTIONS OVER THE STATE

FIGHT ON SCHOOL BOARD MEMBERS AT GENEVA.

Dispute on Selection of Superintendent—Forty-eight Applications Received.

GENEVA, Neb., April 5.—Supporters of Dr. Claire Owens and Dr. J. M. S. Chesher, member of the school board, would have probably carried the day by writing in names for members of the board in the election if a number of votes in the three wards had not been thrown out on account of no crosses in front of them. Matters of dispute in the board resulted in a deadlock on selection of a superintendent to succeed L. W. Weisel, resigned. The nominees of the caucus, T. T. Fellows and William Ralston, received respectively 273 and 266 votes. The names written in registered Roy Borland, 263; Mrs. Marcella Holt, 229. The caucus nominees for the board were provided by the faction opposed to the stand taken by Drs. Chesher and Owens. Fifty-eight applications for superintendent have been received. Councilmen elected were: First ward, R. G. Phelps; Second ward, D. J. Davis; Third ward, John Swails.

FRIEND, Neb., April 5.—At the city election held Tuesday the following people were elected officials: Mayor to fill vacancy, Frank Macker; councilmen, O. L. Jewitt and A. H. Teale. The following members of the board of education were elected: P. O. Southwick and E. E. Blanchard for full term, and Mrs. H. J. Southwick to fill vacancy. There being no special issue the campaign was a quiet affair.

M'COOK, Neb., April 5.—The citizens' ticket won the city election by a practically two to one vote. Members of board of education elected are: G. L. Burney and G. H. Watkins. Councilman First ward, Dr. R. H. Gatewood; Second ward, Gerney Hatmon.

WAUNETA, Neb., April 5.— Jo Dudeck, Ray Gibson and J. O. Walker were elected members of the village board at Tuesday's election for three, two and one years in order named, re-elected.

Leo Crowell, F. O. Nesmith and Mrs. Theobald as members of the district school board, re-elected.

FRANKLIN, Neb., April 5.—At the city and school election the following officers were elected: First ward: Earl Austin, full term. Second ward, W. S. Yates, full term; to fill vacancy, William Courton.

For full three year term on the school board: W. A. Butler and Mrs. J. H. Beitel. Less than half of the voters attended the election, yet the vote was close, especially in the First ward, where the majority was three and for the vacancy in the Second ward, where the majority was only one.

BURWELL, Neb., April 5.—There is much talk in Burwell in regard to sanitary sewer and one may be constructed the coming summer. The sentiment at the election Tuesday was about equally divided but as it was not a direct issue nothing was decided. The new board may put it up to a vote of the people.

FAIRFIELD, Neb., April 5.—C. A. Reeder and J. R. Bell, M. D., were elected members of the city council and Mrs. H. M. Stevens and C. H. Epperson were elected members of the school board. Mr. Epperson formerly represented this district in the legislature.

BEATRICE-The Happy City

Beatrice

Is located in the heart of a trade territory which virtually is the land of golden opportunity.

Within 80 miles of Beatrice lays a large portion of God's own country, and well worth the consideration of any man. Otoe, Jefferson, Saline, Nemaha, Pawnee, Johnson and Gage County, Nebraska compare equally with any other seven counties in the State, and with Beatrice as the Hub, development is bound to come which will make this particular part of the Universe the equal of any. Five factories with an invested capital of over two million dollars and an annual output of manufactured products of over four million, together with a pay roll of nearly three-quarter million dollars bespeaks a producing condition worth serious consideration. The value of raw material these factories use is nearly half a million dollars. The Jobbing industry of Beatrice carries with it at all times the importance of the development of this city as a center, in as much as the transportation facilities offered are such as will permit a future development well worth while. The Union Pacific, Rock Island and Burlington railroads, with Beatrice as a center, reach out in such a way as to Build with Beatrice, a trading territory in position to return value to any industry.

Beatrice Chamber of Commerce.

PROMINENT ASHLAND MAN DEAD

Jesse N. Moon Funeral Will Be Held Friday.

ASHLAND, Neb., April 5.—Jesse N. Moon, police magistrate, justice of the peace and prominent G. A. R. man, died at his home in this city at twelve o'clock, noon. Mr. Moon had lived in Ashland and vicinity for 42 years, settling on a homestead near Alvo, from where he moved to Ashland. At one time he was in the mercantile business in this city. He was seventy-six years of age, having enlisted in the service of Uncle Sam when quite young. He leaves a wife, three daughters and one son, Dr. Charles Moon of Omaha. He also leaves a brother, M. M. Moon, of Omaha. Mr. Moon was always prominent in Grand Army circles and for many years was local distributor of the soldier's aid fund. He was clerk of the M. W. A. camp and an active Odd Fellow for nearly fifty years. Funeral services will be held at the Congregational church in this city at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. He was a past grand and past chief partriarch of the Odd Fellows and a member of the Rebekah lodge. Interment will be in the local cemetery under the auspices of Saunders lodge No. 17 I. O. O. F.

RUSSIA BLACK AS PAINTED

G. F. Beschorner Tells Lions What He Saw While Working for American Relief.

All the horrors that have been told about the Russian government are true, G. F. Beschorner told the Lions club Thursday, with the exception that the bolsheviki have not put into effect the nationalization of women. Actual conditions in Russia are impossible to describe, or to realize without seeing, he said. Mr. Beschorner spent ten months as director of child feeding for the national Lutheran council, which is affiliated with the American relief administration.

"One must make a careful distinction between the Russian government and the Russian people," he said, "and while the soviet government may benefit by American relief, it is the masses of pepole who are primarily served, and the work among them will be an enduring monument to America. I had charge of a district of seventy villages and 95,000 people, including 15,000 children, and they were kept alive thru 1921 and 1922 by one meal a day from the relief administration, at a cost of 70 cents a month a child. Ten million starving people were fed last winter and spring."

Mr. Beschorner told of seeing skeletons along the road from Riga to Moscow, of the so-called sanitarium where many of the starving were taken to die, and where it was necessary for armed guards to protect frozen bodies from famished people. Some of the pictures he took to back up his statements were circulated by the relief administration while others were suppressed by the soviet censors.

FEW ERRORS CHRONICLED

Official Count of Vote at Tuesday Primary Indicates Few Changes in Totals.

Shortly after 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the city counting board had completed the tabulation of all but two wards of the ten wards of the city of the vote cast at the Tuesday primary for city commissioner and for members of the school board.

City Clerk Berg, a member of the counting board, said that only a few small errors were found in the unofficial canvas made hurriedly Tuesday night following the results from the nomination primary. No changes in the relative position of the candidates was indicated in the official count as faras the board had proceeded.

CLARK VISITS LINCOLN DEMOLAY

Dr. J. Clark, active member of the grand council, order of De Molay was present at the regular meeting of the local chapter Tuesday evening at the Scottish Rite temple. After an exhibition by the De Molay patrol and music by the quartet Dr. Clark made a short talk describing the growth of De Molay recently and its expectations for the future.

The Lincoln chapter was organized October 21, 1921, at which time there were only seventeen chapters and three thousand members. There are now more than 800 chapters with one hundred twenty-five thousand members in the United States. The grand master counsellor is now in Scotland organizing a subordinate lodge there From Scotland he will go to England and other countries to begin the work but all lodges so formed will remain subject to the grand lodge of the United States whose seat is at Kansas City, Mo.

The Lincoln chapter will shortly be called upon to install a new chapter at York, it was announced.

FIRST DISTRICT YET TO CAUCUS

Republicans and democrats of the first district are the only ones yet to caucus to nominate candidates for the sifting committee which is to be created for Friday.

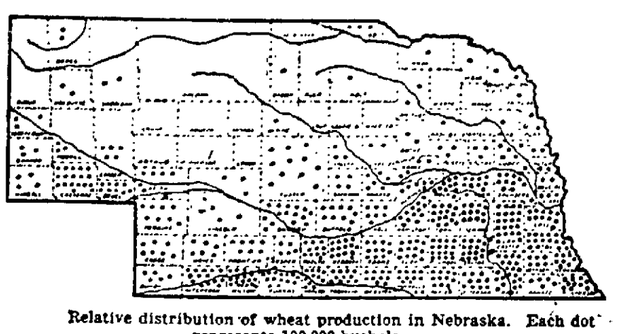

In the second district, representative Dybail, republican, and Elsasser, democrat, were nominated at a caucus held today. The first district will caucus after the session Thursday. Other caucuses were made several days ago

The sifting committee will consist of two members from each congressional district and a member at large, making thirteen in all.

EAGER TO FLY.

BERLIN, (By mail.)—Germany, believing her future is "in the air," seeks to secure her place there—despite all the restrictions placed upon her aerial development by the Versailles treaty. The successful flight of President Ebert and other high government officials from Berlin to Leipzig in a "staged" trip has aroused much comment, especially in the Berlin press, on the need for development of Germany's aerial life.

LOCATION OF NEBRASKA WHEAT FIELDS

Relative distribution of wheat production in Nebraska. Each dot represents 100,000 bushels.

In Nebraska the acreage and value of wheat is surpassed only by corn. The acreage has increased from approximately one million acres in 1899 to more than three and one-half million acres at the present time. As shown, the greatest wheat section of the state is south of the Platte river, in central Nebraska. The comparatively level land in Nebraska which permits the use of labor-saving machinery, the deep rich soil, and a favorable climate all contribute to make wheat production profitable. Nebraska ranks high among wheat producing states in acre yields. The average yield for winter wheat is about 18.3 bushels, and 12.2 bushels per acre for spring wheat.

CHIROPRACTIC BILL COMES BACK AGAIN

Proposal to Strike All References to Fixed College Term and to Let in Graduates of Any Reputable College.

The chiropractic feud in the senate has not been settled. McGowan stirred up anew Thursday with a motion to recommit H. R. 280 for specific amendment. His motion prevailed and the bill dropped back out of its place on third reading. It will go to the committee of the whole.

The specific amendment proposed by McGowan strikes from the bill all reference to any fixed length of time for a course of study. It provides that graduates of any reputable chiropractic college shall be entitled to take an examination before the state board, no two of whose members shall be graduates of the same college. By a vote of 15 to 7 the bill was referred back to the standing committee on medical societies.

Some oratory was let loose before the railway committee's recommendation upon S. F. 64 was adopted by the senate. The committee asked that the bill be indefinitely postponed. Cooper of Douglas opposed this and spoke in favor of the bill. He said it will not require railroads to go to any expense if it is amended to apply only to future construction.

Hastings opposed the bill on the ground that it will require certain clearances in equipment and rolling stock and that it does require removal of much property. He said it would cost the railroads a million dollars to comply with it, yet there were no complaints from railroad employes of accidents. Two filed with the railway commission had been dismissed. He said the bill will also hit outside industries, such as elevators and coal companies. He did not see how its supporters can be sincere.

By a vote of 8 to 18 the motion of Coope rto place the bill on general file was defeated. It was then indefinitely postponed.

The committee on banks and banking indefinitely postponed several senate bills relating to banking. Those killed are S. F. 184, S. F. 160, S. F. 161, dealing with amount of loans to a single individual, negotiability of certificates of deposit and disposition of bank examination fees. Most of the matters have been cared for in H. R. 272, now before the governor.

H. R. 464, authorizing a charter for a bank in a city or village where no bank exists and where one has been closed within three years, was placed on the general file.

H. R. 256, 216, and 287, relating to leasing and sale of school lands partially irrigated, and purchase by counties for poor farms, were placed on the general file.

Several bills advanced to third reading Wednesday were passed Thursday. Among these are H. R. 247, fixing primary election day the second Tuesday in April on presidential years, and H. R. 328, reducing the price of supreme court reports from $2 to $1 a volume.

NO INTEREST IN CONTRACT

merely tentative, and that if he is told that he cannot use this material there will be no arches and domes of lath and plaster no matter what they may be covered with. He did not like, he said, to be charged with a crime he had not yet committed.

The architect also defended the system of allowances. He said that Mr. Johnson had accused him of trying to hand a bonus of $13,000 over to the tile contractor for doing what his contract requires him to do. He said it is difficult to be patient under such charges. The $13,000 payment is not for the tile covered by the main contract, but for other and ornamental tile, samples of which were handed around. Johnson says that the contract calls for acoustic tile, while the archiect says he proposes using burned and colored tile, with the other as the background.

Mr. Goodhue defended the system of cash allowances, which he says is in universal use. The reason is that when the bids are asked for it is impossible to know or state just what is wanted in the way of ornamentation, such as marble columns, carving and the like. The architect fixes the approximate amount beyond which the contractor cannot go, while if he gets it for less the state is credited with that sum. There is no design, Mr. Goodhue said, for bidders to make estimates on, and he knew of no way to secure competition on these cash allowances.

The Heating Contract.

Mr. Goodhue said that Mr. Johnson had asked that he be called upon to say why he tried to force the commission to contract with the American Radiator company, and now he demanded that Johnson be asked to tell why he tried to do the same thing for the United States Radiation company. He said a representative of Robert Parks, the plumbing contractor, told him his company had bid on the American product, but that Johnson wanted the other. Mr. Johnson said that he would insist on the man being called as a witness, as he and a U. S. salesman had called on him to insist on the use of U. S. stuff.

Mr. Goodhue read a letter from the consulting engineers employed by the commission, Meyer, Strong & Jones, that the American has no patent on screw nipples on radiators, and that the U. S. company could furnish them, as well as another big company. Mr. Johnson had charged that Mr. Goodhue had tried to force the contract to the American by stipulating for screw nipple radiators.

The window incident, Mr. Goodhue said, was a closed incident. The contract had been given to the Lupton company for two weather point windows, and he had approved it. He said a great deal had been made of this, but he did not feel very stronly about it. Any good window will be satisfactory He considers the three point better, because it has one more stop against the weather. Mr. Johnson said the architect had tried to throw the contract to the International by specifying three point windows, and it is the only one that makes them.

Mr. Goodhue went into considerable detail with respect to the marble column contract to Sunderland. The four big columns are four supports for the dome and the others are in the main entrance vestibule, from the north. He said these had to be strong enough to carry the weight resting upon them, and he had insisted upon strong marble because he did not believe in using concealed girders to carry it. He had selected Red Verona for this reason. Other marbles are more beautiful, but they are more costly and are not so strong.

He said he had tried to get around the American middleman, when on his trip to Europe, but he found he could not buy direct. Sunderland says they will cost him $27,370, and Mr. Goodhue said that he will have to supply them for $25,000 and he must find something he can furnish for that sum.

Photographs of modeling done by Sculptor Lawrie and Carver Ardalino were shown to indicate the high character of their work. Mr. Goodhue says this is something that does not render itself open to competition, being a question of artistry and not of mechanics.

With respect to the hardware specifications complained of, the architect said that these had never gone beyond a blue print stage, but even in that condition New York men capable of bidding on the contract were able to ascertain what was being called for.

Mr. Goodhue pointed out on a door in the room where the hearing is being held what is called a door check, which closes it and prevents it from being slammed.

"See all that enginry up there," he exclaimed. "Well, I don't want that on my doors, no damned locomotive stuff. I call for a door check that is out of sight and costs no more. I also call for a door hinge that is the best and costs no more. That does limit competition in these matters, and I am glad it is there, for they call for far and away the best. Any contractor may include these in his entire bid, but he must buy from the one firm these articles."

Mr. Goodhue concluded by broadly denying there was any short bonding in perpendicular joints, and said his challenge to Mr. Johnson to show them to him had gone on unaccepted.

REVIVAL MEETING UNDER WAY

Dr. Jesse Kellems Takes Up Evangelistic Work at First Christian.

The revival meeting which the First Christian church of Lincoln has been talking and planning for is now in full swing. The meeting began with the Easter services Sunday. Dr. Harmon preached every night until Dr. Jesse Kellems arrived Wednesday evening from Kansas City and St. Louis and preached his first sermon to a good house. The revival will continue every night with the possible exception of Saturdays, for three or four weeks. Mr. Richards, song leader, has organized a chorus of about seventy men and women to lead in the song service each evening.

Dr. Kellems expressed his pleasure at being in Lincoln. "I am always glad to be in the west," he said. "I am a westerner myself. My forefathers crossed the plains in the early days. It was the Pacific coast or bust and some of them got the latter."

Dr. Kellems preached last evening on the subject "The Deity of Jesus." He remarked that the fate of the church depends on the attitude of Christians toward Jesus Christ. The world judges our Savior by us. If we have a great faith they will want our Lord; if we are not quite sure what we believe they will have none of it. There have been two great views in regard to Jesus. One is that Jesus was only a man great in every way, but still a man; the church has always held the opposite view—that Jesus is the Son of God in a way that we can never be.

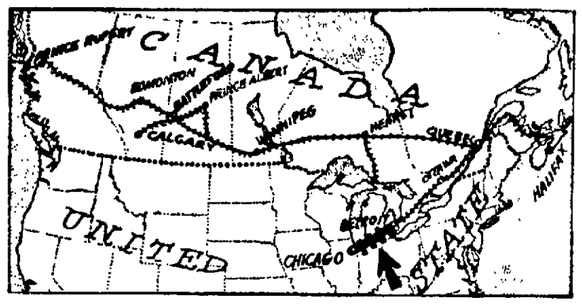

The sermon subject tonight will be "Is There a Life After Death?"

TO TAX SUGAR MILLS ON DIFFERENT BASIS

Osborne Bill Passes the Senate Without Emergency Clause by Bare Majority—Larkin Absent.

A call of the senate was necessary when Osborne's S. F. 269, a bill providing a new method of valuing property of sugar factories for taxation came up for passage Thursday forenoon. The call brought in Wiltse, Purcell and Kroh, joint committee investigating the capitol architect. Larkin of Douglas could not be found. The search for him stopped and the call was raised when it became apparent that the bill had the necessary seventeen votes but could not get enough to pass it with the emergency clause.

By a vote of 17 to 15 it was passed without the emergency clause, and unless this is supplied in the house of representatives it may be impossible to enforce the law this year, tho this has not been determined.

The bill provides that sugar factories shall be taxed by taking into consideration purchases and sales six months prior to April 1. The method now used is to arrive at total investments by taking the monthly amount and dividing by twelve. The method prescribed by the bill will cause sugar factories to pay on the average amount of sugar on hand for the six months previous to April 1.

Wiltse explained his vote in the negative by saying he doubted the constitutionality of the bill and believed it may be discriminatory against other classes of property which are assessed on a basis of the amount on hand April 1.

The bill passed by the following vote:

Aye—Barr, Chambers, Cooper, Good, Kroh, Meacham, McGowan, Osborne, Purcell, Reed, Reifenrath Rickard, Shellenberger, Sinha, Sturdevant, Thielen, Warner.—17.

Nay—Allen, Anderson, Banning, Behrens, Bliss, Fries, Gumb, Hastings, Illian, Johnson, Robbins Saunders, Tomek, Wilkins, Wiltse.—15.

GOVERNOR BRYAN WILL VETO

Democrat Says No Amendments to the Code Need Expect to Get Past the Chief Executive.

Chairman Hastings and his committee on miscellaneous subjects heard Representative Dysart and Speaker Mathers Thursday morning on their respective plans of amending the code law. No action was taken but another meeting of the committee was announced for late in the afternoon.

It is reported that the majority in the senate is likely to cut out all power of the governor to elect whether he shall have appointive secretaries of code departments or use state officers for those positions.

It is possible the committee may do this or it may report out S. F. 2, by Reed. As amended this senate bill says if the governor does not appoint individuals certain state officers named shall be secretaries of the code departments, the lieutenant governor being designated as head of the department of agriculture.

A leading democrat is authority for the statement that whatever amendatory bill is passed by the legislature Governor Bryan will veto it, and thus all this work will be for naught and the present code law will remain in force.

SHORT MATRIMONIAL VOYAGE.

Mrs. Ruth M. Stay was granted a divorce from Fred Stay, an inmate of the state penitentiary, in district court Thursday morning. She testified to a brief matrimonial voyage. She said that in January, 1922, she and Fred started out on an auto trip, and went to Beaver Crossing. They did not intend to marry when the trip was begun, but she changed her mind, she said. Her husband left her after two days and came to Lincoln. He got himself imprisoned on a charge of taking a rented auto to Colorado and forgetting to return it in time.

AL TAX HEAVIER OR POOR THAN RICH

Warming Says Tendency in Denark Has Been to Decrease Tax Land and Increase That on Personal Property.

r. Jens Warming of Copenhagen, is in Lincoln for a couple of days ressing groups of the University Nebraska faculty and students inested in the subject of taxation, e his home in Nebraska twenty- years ago. Dr. Warming taught Danish college at Nysted, Howard nty, during the years 1897 and . At Nysted no English was ken and later Professor Warming lied the English language in Lin- tor a short time.

hursday morning Professor Warmspoke on "Taxation of Real Prop-" at a special convocation in social nce auditorium. He said the tax real property is less just under lern conditions than it used to be, it falls more heavily on the poor who owns a home than on the man whose income may be de- largely from sources other than . He said the average mortgage dwelling houses in Copenhagen is per cent.

n Danish towns with a population ess than 4,000, 51 per cent of the ses are occupied by owners, but larger cities only 7 per cent are upied by owners. Dr. Warming iewed the history of taxation in country for the last hundred years, wing that the tendency had been r by year for an increase in the sonal tax and a decrease on real perty. At present the progressive ome tax in Copenhagen can reach per cent, and a man owning a at property which is not produce of much income may be called n to pay 80 per cent of his inne.

n the effort to find some system re fair under modern conditions in nmark, a tax has been placed on increase of value of property, in- ding old houses whose value had n increased thru advanced costs of lding—what is known as the unned increment. Dr. Warming said state tax on land is very low in nmark. He discussed the single tax ories in relation to Denmark's blems, and said too great tax on ldings encouraged owners of land hold it for speculation without imvements.

Dr. Warming will address the fac- y dinner club at 6 p. m. Thursday the Grand hotel on "National rizons of Denmark." Friday at 11 m. he will speak on "Danish Agriture and the Co-operative Move- nt" at a special convocation in agultural hall.

D SOLICITATION PLANS

mmunity Chest Workers to Deal ith Heads of Business Concerns Only in Coming Drive.

Frank D. Tomson reports that the mmittee in charge of Community est affairs has decided that there ll be no solicitating among emyes in the offices, business houses factories of the city for the Comnity Chest. The committee in rge of the drive will deal directly h the business heads, leaving each ncern to decide on the plan of apling to the employees and desigting who within the concern shall e charge there. Mr. Turner says: 'This will be welcome news to the siness and professional people. ere have been many annoying inruptions in the past, caused by licitors taking up the time of inidual employees, urging contriions for various causes, and it is purpose of the Community Chest mmittee at the outset to prevent a ntinuance of this price. The plan dicated will encourage every siness house to organize and direct matter of donations to the Comnity Chest—a cause in which all interested, whether employer or ployee. It admits of systematizing s effort on a very simple basis; it sures the least possible interrupn in the office routine; it makes a re effective and practical appeal to h individual.

It this wise decision on the part the committee is an indication of future management of the Comnity Chest affairs, there need be concern about its increased value the community."

DEVELOPMENT OF THE HESSIAN FLY

In eastern Nebraska the most destructive wheat pest is the Hessian fly. This pest attacks the wheat both in the fall (September) and in the spring (April and early May), there being two principal broods. The Hessian fly is a tiny mosquito-like insect that lays eggs on the wheat blades, these eggs hatching into maggots that attack the stem of the wheat near its base and drain the vitality of the plans. In the fall the main stems of the young plants are often killed so that most of the plants turn brown, while in the spring the sap flow is cut off so that the wheat berries develop poorly, causing a low yield, and the stems tend to crinkle and break at the point of attack, causing the grain to lodge.

WHAT'S HAPPENED TO THE EARLY MARRIAGE?

"The business girl, I believe, makes the best wife. But if—or when—she doesn't marry, simply in order to remain a business girl—well, one wants to say to her, 'Why stop at the kindergarten stage of life, instead of going to high school? Why deliberately deprive yourself of all the great, sweeping, enriching, invigorating passions—the love, the maternity, the very suffering which teach you how to live? Why do a man's work in a man's world forever, when you can be doing your own work in your own world?

That's how Kathleen Norris, perhaps the most widely read woman novelist in America, answers the tacit challenge of that feminine half of the younger generation which isn't marrying young. Mrs. Norris has just come to New York from her California home for her annual visit, and when we called on her the other day we asked her opinion about the early marriage which is disappearing so fast that a professor at teachers college suggests financial endowment to induce matrimony between twenty and thirty. We know that Mrs. Norris' views would interest readers of this column, for in her novels of a dozen years, beginning with "Mother" and coming down thru the last and best one, "Certain People of Importance," she has written a human comedy of the American woman—worker, wife, mother; has written of her with that unusual and unbeatable combination, a warm heart, a keen mind and a typewriter that knows how to tell stories.

"What I would like to see," she informed us, "is a society so organized that all young things could do their marrying between fifteen and twenty-five, when they simply fly together. Marriage is put off today—and the way we do it is a pretty cold proposition! We ought not to deny young love; we ought not to keep the children of young love from being born. If only our girls could all marry young, have their children young—then, at thirty, when the children are going to school, let the mothers go to their work.

"But why can't it be women's work?" added Kathleen Norris. "My

FORDS RUN 34 MILES ON GALLON OF GASOLINE.

Starts Easy in Coldest Weather — Other Cars Show Proportionate Saving.

A new carburetor which cuts down gasoline consumption of any motor and reduces gasoline bills from one-third to one-half is the proud achievement of the Air-Friction Carburetor Co., Dept. 1235, Dayton, Ohio. This remarkable invention not only increases the power of motors from 30 to 50 per cent, but enables every one to run slow on high gear. It also makes it easy to start a Ford or any other car in the coldest weather. You can use the very cheapest grade of gasoline or half gasoline and half kerosene and still get more power and more mileage than you now get from the highest test gasoline. All Ford owners can get as high as thirty-four miles to a gallon of gasoline. So sure are the manufacturers of the immense saving their new carburetor will make that they offer to send it on thirty days' trial to every car owner. As it can be put on or taken off in a few minutes by anyone all readers of this paper who want to try it should send their name, address and make of car to the manufacturers at once. They also want local agents, to whom they offer exceptionally large profits. Write them today.—Advertisement.

that I mean work connected with the great, fundamental needs of the world—food, clothing, homes, the nurture of children. A girl goes downtown and works as a bookkeeper in a factory devoted to the manufacture of wooden buttons. She thinks she's a part of the machinery of progress—and yet it's all so unnecessary! We could live in perfect comfort, if wooden buttons had never been invented. We couldn't live if we hadn't food to put into our mouths, and until recently that food had to be prepared by women. Yet now there is no place in the world where one can eat so well as at a man's club.

"Instead of working for men, why can't women work with and for each other?"

"One reason," we suggested, "is because they don't want to work for each other. You've no idea how many little girls have expressed to us their aversion to having a woman boss."

"The modern girl," said Kathleen Norris, "wants to work for a man because at the back of her brain she still has the old notion that she must get a man for herself. When she once learns that the man needs her much more than she needs him, that it's his business to come after her instead of hers to go after him—when that time comes, man's stock will drop about 42 per cent!"

We reminded her of Fanny, the "old maid" in "Certain People of Importance," that book which has been called "the Vanity Fair of the Eighties." "At least," we offered, "there aren't any more bitter, frustrated Fannies in the modern business girl's world."

"The business girl is an immense improvement on Fanny," her creator agreed promptly. "I admire her tremendously, and she's come a long way. Just think, before the business girl, all women lived by wheedling money out of men.

"It was abominable. It was a state of affairs to which women never will return. They themselves, to be sure, were partly responsible for it. A woman of whom I was very fond was given a checkbook by her husband in 1896; probably she had one of the first checkbooks ever owned by a married woman in America. And she told her mother that, really, she didn't quite like it. She said: 'John wanted me to take it, and so I did—but it seems to commercialize our relationship.'"

"The modern girl has a perfectly natural and laudable desire to count as an individual—that's why she hesitates before giving up her job to marry. And yet I repeat—her job is just doing man's work—not her own. She is paid by a man; only she's paid across a desk instead of across the breakfast table.

"If there were some way in which the state gave recognition to woman's job of producing and rearing the citizens on which its very existence depends! Suppose a young married woman were told that, in a year or two, she would be given the Koh-i-noor, for her very own, to do with as she pleased. She would be frightened to death. She would say, 'But what can I do with it? How can I take care of it all alone? What will keep me from being robbed of it?' And yet that is just the attitude society takes toward the young mother of two fine little boys; it says that they're exceedingly valuable, that they belong to her and that she must take care of them as best she can, without protection, assistance, recognition."

"Yet still you think marriage and motherhood are not to be denied or even put off?" we asked Mrs. Norris.

"A woman, until she is married, doesn't know anything!" she exclaimed. "She doesn't know men, she doesn't know herself. A woman of forty, a well known writer who has remained 'successfully single,' was telling me the other day how, if she should marry, she wanted a man who would 'absorb every waking minute,' who would be 'jealous of her every word and act and thought.' And I looked at her and I said to myself"—Mrs. Norris dropped into the slang of emphatic candor—"'You poor egg, go somewhere and hatch!'

"I'm all for the early marriage," earnestly summed up this distinguished contributor to our discussion. "For when a girl puts off marriage she puts off maternity—and sometimes she puts it off too long."

MRS. CLAIRE CONOVER

NEW YORK—Yachts, palms, a coffin, and an affinity all went to feature a divorce granted to Mrs. Jessica Smith here recently. Mrs. Claire Conover, a Chicago divorcee, was named by Mrs. Smith in her suit against Carrol S. Smith, wealthy marine engineer. It was brought out during the evidence of the case that Mrs. Conover accompanied Mr. Smith when the latter took the remains of his friend, Otis Cutler, from Miami to Jacksonville. In May of 1917 Mrs. Conover was divorced from her husband in Chicago.

Be Careful What You Wash Your Child's Hair With

If you want to keep your child's hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Many soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much free alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing as this cannot possibly injure the hair.

Simply put two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified in a cup or glass with a little warm water, then moisten the hair with water and rub the Mulsified in. It will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any drug store. It is very cheap and a few ounces will last everyone in the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.—Advertisement.

U. S. SHRINERS IN ATHENS.

ATHENS, (By mail.)—Bishop Darlington of the Pennsylvania diocese headed a party of forty American Shriners who landed at Athens from the big tourist liner Rotterdam and who accepted the hospitality of Ralph Knapp, director of the Near East Relief association. A Masonic service was held on Mars hill, near the Acropolis, where Bishop Darlington read the seventeenth chapter of the Acts, containing the sermon preached on the same spot by St. Paul nineteen centuries ago.

"Do you object to my bathing suit?" inquired the beach belle. "Not personally," replied the village cop, "only professionally."—Washington Star.

LATEST MARKETS

CHICAGO, April 5.—Good [illegible] developed following a light decline in grain prices on the Chicago board of trade today and the close was strong.

Evidence of further inquiries for wheat, mostly Manitobas and durums, with continued reports of unfavorable crop conditions in the southwest, induced buying. The green bug menace was reported more severe in some sections of the southwest.

Corn prices held fairly steady thruout the day, due to some export inquiry. Reports from portions of Iowa and Illinois stated that elevators were selling grain back to feeders and farmers.

Considerable liquidation in May oats, causing the market to show a weak undertone.

Provisions were irregular.

CHICAGO, April 5. Prices were irregular at the opening on the Chicago board of trade today. Wheat was higher while corn and oats remained unchanged.

Buying of wheat developed at the opening on advices from the southwest that continued cold weather probably would reach the freezing point in some sections, causing further crop damage. Rains over the belt yesterday were not as beneficial as expected. Reports from New York said export sales overnight aggregated 2,500,000 bushels.

A considerable quantity of corn appeared for sale at yesterday's prices and served to hold the market steady.

Indications that some damage was caused to the recently seeded oats by cold weather created some buying in that grain.

The market remained dull thruout the morning with little price fluctuations.

Trading in wheat was light and largely local with selling predominating. There appeared to be some good export inquiries, but bids were below a workable basis.

Corn appeared to be under pressure by recent buyers. Foreign markets remained unchanged with little export demand.

Oats was unchanged to higher on a dull market.

Journal of Commerce Report.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Wheat traders are still confident of higher values but believe outside help is needed to prevent frequent reactions from bulges. Foreign markets are showing strength, export business is increasing and available supplies are beginning to show the inroads made by consumption on requirements.

Sentiment in corn is bullish. Farm consumption is more above the average and the late spring is retarding the outlook for the new crop.

It is understood that there are eastern inquiries here for large round lots of corn to load for shipment east at the opening of navigation.—Lamson.

Grain Market Opinions.

Hulburd-Warren & Chandler: Corn shows a distinctly better tone.

Bartlett-Frazier & Co.: We look for the market to do better.

Harris-Winthrop & Co.: Corn leads in speculative favor.

Clement-Curtis & Co.: Purchases of deferred deliveries are suggested on weak spots. Corn looks especially healthy.

E. Lowitz & Co.: Conditions appear to favor sales on hard spots.

J. E. Bennett & Co.: On the dips we favor the buying side of deferred months.

Thomson-McKinnon: Growing weather will probably reveal deterioration enough in the wheat promise to give values an upward trend. Better prices are indicated for corn and oats.

Logan & Bryan: We feel friendly to the buying side on the dips.—Lamson.

Chicago Grain Opening.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Opening grain: Wheat—May up ⅝c, July up ¼c, September unchanged.

Corn—May and September unchanged, July up ⅛c.

Oats—May, July and September unchanged.

Wall Street Journal Review.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Renewal of selling pressure in the morning trading met an abrupt check following publication of Secretary Mellon's optimistic remarks concerning the business and credit situation. With the head of the treasury declaring that a large amount of free capital is available for investment purposes the speculative community realized that its recent fright over the money outlook has been exaggerated. Prices showed a rising tendency thru the remainder of the session, testifying to the salutary effect of the confidence inspired by Mellon's statement.

Emphasis laid by him upon the healthy character of business expansion furnished further proof that the minor downward movement which the market experienced in the last ten days had nothing to do with the trade conditions.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Stocks were stimulated in the early dealings today by evidence of the rapid expansion of business activity furnished by the new high record for pigiron production which was established in March, and by maintenance of the weekly car loadings at close to unprecedented levels. American Can, California Petroleum, Consolidated Gas, Studebaker, American Locomotive and Steel common scored fractional gains in the initial transactions. Dupont was a feature of special strength, advancing more than a point to 122¼.

Opening stock prices: Pan-American 72⅞, off ⅛; American Can 95⅞; California Petroleum 97⅞, up ⅝; Texas company 51, up ¼; Sinclair 37½, up ½; General Motors 15, off ¼, Consolidated Gas 65, up ½, New York Central 94¼, up ½; American Locomotive 132½, up ½; U. S. Steel 106¾, up ¼; Studebaker 122¾, up ¼; Bethlehem Steel "B" 66¼, up ⅛.

Many commission houses that have been advising profit-taking are now instructing their customers to buy on the breaks. This change of attitude brought considerable buying into the market in the first two hours and active results showed further gains in the late morning despite another outbreak of selling in rails.

Stock Market Opinions.

Housman & Co.: General speculative sentiment is still a little jumpy and this makes for irregularity.

Post & Flagg: No material movement is likely until the market gets a new impetus.

Clark-Childs & Co.: On any further break purchases of steels, oils, coppers, equipments, motors and good rails look advisable.

Harris-Winthrop & Co.: We favor taking profits on advances.

Thomson-McKinnon: Selling on the bulges seems the best policy.

Logan & Bryan: There will have to be a readjustment of speculative position before any important upward movement can be sustained.

Simpson: Would buy wheat and corn on setbacks. Corn market is beginning to show more activity and some of the larger local traders showing a disposition to help the market. Think on the minor setbacks it should be bought.—Lamson.

Why Drop Coolidge?

Republics are proverbially ungrateful: one hopes the generalization does not apply to republicans.

Our reference is, of course, to the significant circumstance on which some of our contemporaries are commenting, that Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty's announcement of President Harding's designs upon a second term contains no mention of Vice President Calvin Coolidge.

This omission was obviously either an oversight or a slap at Massachusetts and its former governor who came within an ace of being made president of the United States as a result of his heroic stand for law and order in the police strike.

Following the Chicago convention which but for some mysterious counter-influence might have been stampeded for Calvin Coolidge, our Northampton fellow-citizen willingly accepted a nomination for the second place on the ticket. The publicity which the New York papers gave to his personality in the campaign of 1920 contributed, undoubtedly, toward the great republican victory. It was generally realized thruout the nation that the party, instead of putting up a respectable nonentity for the presidential understudy, had selected a sturdy and pleasing figure from old New England. It was forecast that during Mr. Harding's first term the vice president would be a regular fellow, with a chance to make himself felt at Washington.

Massachusetts readers of the news dispatches are aware that since March 4, 1921, Mr. Coolidge in that conscientious way which made him so admirable a governor of this commonwealth, has done at the national capitol the things that have been expected of him. He has presided gracefully over the deliberations of the senate. He has addressed audiences in Minnesota and other states, always with a plethora of those quotable phrases and sound sentiments that well educated Massachusetts knows have the ring of true Americanism.

If Mr. Harding is to be renamed why not Mr. Coolidge? Wherein has he fallen below expectation or that form of epigrammatic speech to which we of New England are accustomed?

The talk at Washington is said to be that the president's next running mate will be either Charles G. Dawes of Illinois or Henry J. Allen of Kansas. Both these gentlemen are forceful persons of the middle west, representing the same branch of republicanism to which Mr. Harding belongs. They at least are not of the stripe of Borah or LaFollette, and for that one is thankful. It must to New Englanders, at the same time, occur that to shelve Calvin Coolidge for some westerner will be shabby treatment and not particularly good politics.—Lowell Courier-Citizen.

WALT MASON

In Salt Lake.

Down the streets of Salt Lake City I went chooing in my car, and I bummed a joyous ditty as I smoked my rich cigar; for the town is hunky-dory, and true virtue is its glory, it is famed in song and story, as few modern cities are. Then two coppers jumped my Lizzie, and they dragged me from my seat; with their billies they got busy, and they smote me on my feet: "You are charged with public smoking," said the cops, my short ribs poking—local statutes thus invoking, in the sacred name of Pete. "With blue laws I have no quarrel," I informed the busy cops; "I am so intensely moral that I even frown on hops; virtue is my one obsession, but you make a bum impression, and I hereby make confession that my zeal for virtue drops. Had you caught me smoking stogies of the common two-fer brand, such as solace tightway fogies, this arrest I'd understand; but my torch was rich and gaudy, all Havana was its body, it had nothing cheap or shoddy, and it had a scarlet band. If you pinch a man for puffing such a good cigar as mine, if from him you knock the stuffing with your clubs of knotted pine, then your city's way of greeting friendly strangers she is meeting is too fierce to bear repeating, and she should take in her sign."

What Then?

"Miss Jones," said the floorwalker. "I must rebuke you for rudeness to a customer and don't you know that a customer is always right."

"Oh, yes, Mr. Smith I know," replied Miss Jones, hastily, "but you see she said you were an old shark."—Chicago News.

Couldn't Wait That Long.

The Dooleys finally decided to cross the Atlantic from Ireland in search of an easier and better living. The entire family, with the exception of the eldest child, Michael, was engaged in packing its belongings. Enter Michael.

"Father," said he, "I'm not going to America wid ye."

"Faith an' why not, me boy? 'Tis a grand country, I'm told, an' why do ye not wish to come, Michael?"

"I've been talkin' to Father Riley," the lad replied, "and he says that whin 'tis twelve o'clock wid us here 'tis seven in the morning in America."

"An' what of it?"

"Well, father, sure an' 'tis yehself that knows I'm a hearty eater, an' be all that's good, 'tis more than I could do to wait that long for me dinner."—Everybody's Magazine.

Served in Style.

"There's a poor man outside who wants something to eat." "Give him some bread and potatoes." "But he seems to have seen better days." "All right; give him a napkin, too."—Christiania Karikaturen.

MEN AND THINGS

How much of what we hear and fear is actually true? Former State Engineer Johnson told the legislative investigating committee that he found it difficult to get steel and plumbing contractors to come before it and testify in substantiation of his charges against the capitol architect. The reason they give is that the architects are closely organized and having flown in a body to Goodhue's defense before they were thoroly informed of the charges or the facts, the contractors feel that if they testify for Johnson the architects will make it costly for them in their carrying out of other and future contracts in which both are engaged. There is no reason to doubt Mr. Johnson's word that they told him so, but how about the word of the contractors?

What can an architect do to a contractor who fulfills the letter of his bond with those for whom he is doing the work? We ask for information about a matter of which we know little. Can he make him lose money other than by forcing him to do what he has agreed to do? We can see how a captious architect can make it really disagreeable for a contractor he does not like, but contractors can block that sort of a game by being disagreeable themselves. It has been hinted by those who have discussed the matter on the side that contracting is largely a game in which the man who foots the bills deals at arms' length with both architect and contractor, and that this means the contractor can afford to cultivate the architect. Is that true?

Hunting for the truth is a very difficult job. The testimony of men is colored naturally and often unnaturally by their own bias and interest. Thus we have some school boards throwing out newly written American histories on the ground that they belittle certain Americans of whom we have been taught to be proud and tell disagreeable things about the way American troops acted on several occasions. The disbarment from schools has roused to fiery utterance those protagonists of the truth who insist that it must be told under all circumstances, altho, alas for the rarity of things desirable, they don't always tell it themselves.

The old definition of history was that it is an agreed upon lie. Now this did not mean that the men who have written history in the past were natural born liars and that they preferred to write untruths rather than the facts they found. If it had any other inspiration than a desire to indite a ripping good epigram, it was that most delvers after historical truths meet the same obstacle that is met by those who hunt truth in other fields, the impossibility of separating it from the falsity, and, therefore, it was agreed that the weight of evidence tended to support this or that thrust forth fact. It may be that these new historians may not be telling the truth, and certainly when they offer as true something opposed to what has been previously taught as the facts, the burden is on them to prove their case.

My own opinion is that teaching history is a good bit like teaching other facts about life to the growing generation, that we should take care that we tell them only what we have found or believe to be true. We should also exercise a wise discrimination, having in mind always the fact that we are dealing with minds in their most plastic state and at a time when the impressions given will be most lasting.

History teaches by example. What do we gain if we tell all the truth to the youthful mind? Little, if anything, but we run the serious risk of destroying the capacity for entertaining ideals. In teaching about Abraham Lincoln do we add inspiration to youthful lives to tell them all the derogatory things that were said about him in the heat of political and sectional conflict, some of which doubtless were true? Isn't teaching history a matter of good taste and discrimination more than anything else?

The Wise Critic.

"I read that book you wrote about ancient history," said Lowbrow, "and I can't say much for it; there are too many mistakes in it."

"How so?" inquired the surprised author.

"Well, one thing made me laugh. You said a guy named Epicurus was born in 348 B. C., and then a little further on you said he died in 70 B. C. That kills him off before he was born."—London Opinion.

Strong Brand Wanted.

"Ma wants two pounds of butter exactly like what you sent us last week. If it ain't exactly like that she won't take it. The grocer turned to his customers and remarked blandly:

"Some people don't like particular customers, but I do. It's my delight to get them just what they want. I will attend to you in a moment, my boy."

"All right," said the boy, "but be sure and get the same kind. A lot of dad's relations are visiting our house, and ma doesn't want 'em to come again."—Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

ABE MARTIN

"We've just about quit tryin' t' sell berry spoons an' candle labras," said Jeweler Fred Mopps, t'day, while engravin' some flasks an' revolvers fer th' Bentley-Moon weddin'. Rev. Wiley Tanger is makin' a crusade against German in th' grade schools and Scotch in th' hotels.

BRAIN TESTS

(By Sam Loyd.)

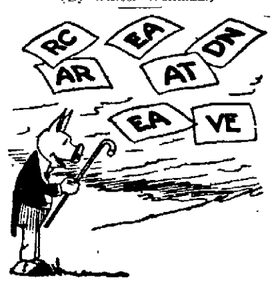

Those candy canes which the little window-wishers are inspecting represent in rebus form a spring flower which blooms in all the colors of the rainbow. What is its name?

Answer to Yesterday's.

The degits can be arranged to add up to 100 by employing fractions, in various ways. Here are four methods: 24 3-6 plus 75 9-18; 95 3-7 plus 4 16-28; 98 3-6 plus 1 27-54; 94 1-2 plus 5 38-76.

TWO WILD ANIMALS

(By Walter Wellman.)

On a windy day, Mr. Pigg saw seven pieces of paper blowing thru the air. When they land he finds that he can add a letter before, and another letter after each set of two, and have seven words of four letters, meaning as follows: To jump into the air; a girl's name; part of a stove; a share; a half circular opening; ratio or proportion; expensive. The first letters, taken in order, spell the name of one wild animal, and the last letters taken in order spell the name of another wild animal. What are the animals?

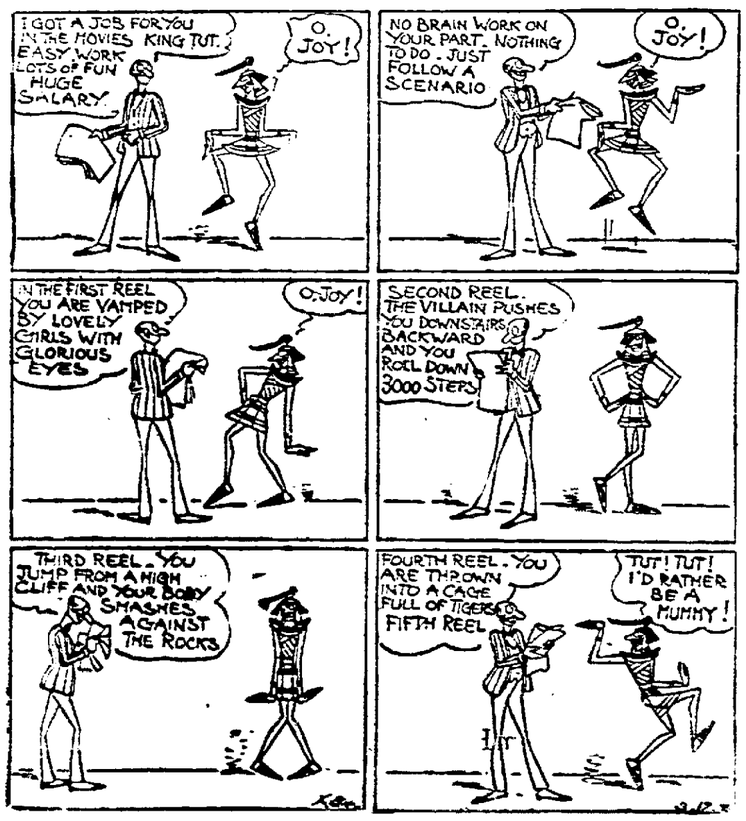

Answer to yesterday's puzzle: POLA NEGRI.
